On 8/02/2019 user Dark contacted me through PM after seeing me post on a currency exchange thread. He was looking for a BTC-PayPal swap. I didn't have enough BTC off hand but told him I was able to get some if he waited. Less than an hour later we agreed to exchange roughly $40. I sent Dark the BTC and he claimed he did not receive it. The transaction was pending so I thought it may be possible, but a transaction I had made about an hour prior was also pending but the user had the BTC in their account. After PMing back and forth for a while Dark still claimed the BTC was not in his account and that I may have made an error when sending. I double checked, even though I had copied and pasted the URL when sending and made sure there were no errors. Everything was correct.

Dark then went offline for a short period and the transaction was confirmed as sent. When he came back online, he said he would check to see if the payment had gone through. He then went offline again almost immediately after and has been offline for roughly 70 hours now.

If anything else needs to be uploaded, like relevant PMs or anything else let me know and I will edit/comment with those as well. Have not had to make a dispute yet so new to this.

Sounds extremely sketchy, man. Looks like he's trying to avoid paying you.

I'll give him the benefit of the doubt until he gets online and I can speak to him, but I've been waiting 3 days now after going out of my way to help him out so it's frustrating.

Have you received any response?

Not yet, looks like he's online though. Or at least was.

Correction he is online and we have exchanged a couple of PMs where he gave me bullshit excuses, he is now actively PMing other members while ignoring me.

User is actively ignoring me. Does anybody know if there is a way to get an admin involved to possibly ban this guy? Would hate to see him scam another member.
