Thread: Remove L33T from Premium Sellers Section

Spaark - August 5, 2019, 9:26 pm

I'd like to see L33t Members removed from selling in the PSS. Potentially allow them to upgrade to V3ndor if they'd like to avoid the Ub3r account creation delay. Assuming the V3ndor vetting process checks into previous B-Rating.

I feel like there should be a higher bar to entry in that section.

The.Businessman - August 5, 2019, 9:44 pm

I don't think this would be any good. Most L33T sellers are new HF users and they sell the most popular stuff, whereas UB3Rs sell eBooks which no one actually buys.

If someone bans L33T from premium sellers, then it'll be filled with eBooks and mentors. i'm pretty sure.

sadfire - August 5, 2019, 10:13 pm

^ I agree but I also do not agree.

xjamer - August 6, 2019, 1:12 am

Its a tough call im a l33t except I feel my products are good but I can see what you mean usually reputable members will be selling better products. Or instead, they add a rule saying if your l33t you have to be a member for x amount of time before posting in premium.

I dont mind them to much how ever some times you see a regular member upgrade just to be able to post in that section.

With out ever even having any history or past transactions that can be dangerous to the new members. I think you use to have to have rep to be able to post in the market place I am not sure if this changed. I think omni should make it so you have to at least have a 10 B rating or something to post there.

Yup. That's the point. To remove new and no-rep user from PSS. Not just because they don't have uber.

ComputerScience - August 6, 2019, 1:36 am

Not being neither l33t nor uber, I highly disagree as I see l33ts having more quality content there. Imho ubers abuse their profiles to sell lq ebooks/methods, with exceptions on both sides, of course.

I agree with the ubers abusing their profiles to sell shit ebooks part. I do disagree l33ts having "much quality contact". It really depends on the user.

Horrible idea, friend of mine used to be fairly active and was leet, his intentions were only to sell his product and everything was legit, just because some multis are selling their trash btc method as leets doesnt mean you should suggest to remove their privileges to sell, i will always blame not the OP but the people with 2 brain cells that buys these methods

Wow, lovely story. Uber is $25 extra and there's always the Secondary Sellers Section.

I don't think the L33t abuse is worth people like your friend.

spiral - August 6, 2019, 5:06 am l33t should be removed from the premium seller section, newer members will trust these members more even if the l33t account is also brand new, makes it much easier for them to scam

SoulZeh - August 6, 2019, 5:18 am

I just don't understand how much more Omniscient/Xerotic can spoon feed people in the marketplace, literally implemented a whole marketing profile, implemented a whole new contract system and even a new deal dispute database which shows on profiles.

If newer members are getting fucked over by "l33t" users so much then it's their own fault for not taking a few more minutes out of their day to look into that user.

If a user registers and buys L33T right away and then scams, I'm sure they will end up being banned and they've essentially just lost money.

Personally I do not think this is a good idea. But that's just my opinion.

Drug Problems - August 6, 2019, 5:22 am

Most ubers in PSS literally just sell trashy e-books without l33t in there it would dry it up a lot i'd imagine

I really hope Omni and Xerotic don't take this as a stab at their work. It's not. This forum has come leaps and bounds from when I registered and I don't like the insinuation that this thread/suggestion is in any way saying they don't f*cking do enough. I can't express enough how impressed I am by the new systems.

Thanks for replying though.

That's actually a good idea. This way we won't have users who register and start selling shady stuff on day 1.

I see this as the best compromise. Banning completely is a little harsh and doing nothing at all is lazy. But forcing new people to at least wait until they sell anything there would be very beneficial for all. Except the scammers of course ?

Sectoral - August 6, 2019, 3:21 pm

I don't think this should be implemented, L33T members also contribute a lot to the market it's like limiting the people that spend at a store.. It doesn't really matter some members are new and are just testing the waters.

Myaccount - August 6, 2019, 3:25 pm

this comes off as "helppp a l33t is selling a method i wanted to sell so kick him out of premium sellers so i can sell methoddddd"

Here's a hint: I don't sell anything in the market.

genehead - August 6, 2019, 4:51 pm

I deal with some people here in HF without L33t or Ub3r banner and they are legit.

Eagle 95 - August 7, 2019, 8:26 am

So basically cos you (Aug 5, 2019 09:26 PM)Spaark Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) feel like there should be a higher bar to entry in that section.

you want to restrict one of main features of a paid usegroup? Many sellers don't want to bust $100 in btc (they might not know what that is) on an upgrade. Many don't want to buy uber either. Leet can be just enough.

If you're going to suggest something stupid like that at least have an actual reason instead of your feelings.

Thank you.

Anyone who does a deal based on a usergroup here, I have some very bad news for ya.

I have read a full thread and replies and would like to add something.

There should be eligibility on the basis of "Online Time" on HF to post in PSS.

Pros of adding this.

? The newer members who are here to sell or buy will become somewhat familiar with site before actually using the section.

? "Account Creation Time" is not feasible to decide whether L33T members can post in PSS or not. Someone can create multiple accounts and scam one after another by buying L33T if that's a main issue here as suggested by OP in thread.

? Adding "Online Time" eligibility will add somewhat "Premium" quality to Section as not everyone will be eligible to post in that section. You need to spend time on HF and get familiarised before actually dealing in that section.

? If you have dispute opened (against you), you can't post in that section unless it is resolved. Although this can be abused as some new members opens dispute without actually knowing what it is and never intend to resolve it.

Staff can play a crucial role by marking such disputes invalid.

? If a person really wants to post in PSS, they should buy UB3R and this would help site to gather some funds which can be used to invest on adding new features.

These are some points that came in my mind. Will update if something new strikes me.

PS : These are just suggestions. There is no need to take any actions on this. Have a good day.

PS : These are just suggestions. There is no need to take any actions on this. Have a good day. Basically what you've mentioned is the requirements of what UB3R use to be like when applying, I can't remember if you still need to apply, pretty sure you don't but like Eagle said, the Premium Sellers Section should never be based off of a usergroup or nor should it be disallowed for L33Ts, like I said in my post before... It's like everyone honestly needs to be spoon fed on how to deal on-site, like literally. There are so many features that are implemented at the moment to HELP people avoid being scammed but people are just being so lazy and cannot take the time to actually look into a profile or even check their market profile.

It's irritating to see people always wanting new things being done for the marketplace, people need to stop being so dense and actually take time out of their day to ensure THEIR OWN safety when dealing.

Just my opinion.
