What is your favorite core AI related movie?

Mine has to be ex-machina

Big fan of these two oldies, but maybe that's because I find the special effects of today too unrealistic:

I don't watch a lot of movies, but Westworld is a good series of that.

Great recommendation. Before you begin watching this series, you better cancel any plans you have for the next two or three days because you'll be inclined to binge watch the entire thing in one go.
