Thread: Methods for getting cash? I don't care if it's blackhat/greyhat/whitehat

CustodyMM - August 6, 2019, 1:34 pm

Any suggestions? I don't mind spending time honestly, and I'm not old enough for a job yet. Doesn't matter if it takes a lot of work. I don't have coding experience though.

Can be illegal or not, I don't really mind

Don't play with fire or you will burn yourself

Don't download anything if you have no skills and knowledge, 90% you will infect yourself and then cry

SteezyLeff - August 6, 2019, 1:41 pm

Graphic design on forums and such can be a nice way to make some money, I believe. You can pirate the tools necessary, so there's not really money needed to get in as I know like Photoshop and Illustrator cost money.

Don't worry on that one, I do have common sense and I am not that young though, I'm 16.

I'm mostly looking for jobs that take time, but might pay off in the end. Dropshipping seems pretty decent, but there's a lot of competition. Any suggestions are helpful

That's true, I've been looking into GFX as well and might try it if it comes to it. Trying to gather some ways and choose something that hopefully at least slightly interests me.

Haha def, selling drugs is pretty lucrative, but I don't really know any cheap dealers around this place honestly. The dealers I know sell pretty standard prices, like prices that aren't too high, but going higher will make it hard to sell

Not gonna lie, when I was earning shit pay ($10 an hour, $90 a week) I was basically living off selling acid for a few weeks. $20 a tab, $15 profit each one good investment if you know what you're doing

ANME - August 7, 2019, 6:07 am

Install INKSCAPE for graphic work. It is FREE and professional. It's really a good software for graphic art work.

Money Inc - August 8, 2019, 4:20 am

I saw you comment about drop shipping, there is plenty of open room in the market. You just have to look away from the ways you see youtube gurus post.
