Thread: common trait amongst shooters

SKIDROOTKIT - August 6, 2019, 7:00 pm

they aren't good looking they are repulsive to all women

Eh, seems like a lot of shooters are pretty minging looking - I guess that contributes to them being outcasts.

"Everyone is lonely, we're all just looking to be less lonely."

Ugly people are often lonelier, even on a friends basis people prefer having attractive friends.

However, it is definitely no excuse. They should deal with loneliness like a normal person.

Popstar - August 6, 2019, 7:44 pm

them being lonely gives them more free time to come up with crazy ass ideas about how everyone is out to get them and the world is a shitty place

I mean I've felt like that but never wanted to literally kill everyone and go to jail my whole life. Just sounds like a horrible trade off

SteezyLeff - August 6, 2019, 8:43 pm

If only these loners could've paid and heeded more attention to the greats of this society, namely Einstein and Tesla that had much to say on being alone.

They all have mental health issues as far as I'm concerned.

When babies are made hospitals should by law have to use faceapp to see what they will look like in 20 years, if they're ugly they should have to be aborted on the spot to avoid mass shootings

Most of them would say that they've been bullied but I think it's their way to gain sympathy
