Thread: Nursing assignment for Health.

So I'm halfway through my assignment and either my brain has stopped working, or something else has happen.

The goals in a sense are;

The content of your report will need to include the following in relation to the themes presented in the case study:

- An analysis of contrasting definitions of health and ill health.
- An evaluation of different explanatory models of health and ill health. For example, biomedical, holistic, and personal behaviour models.
- An analysis of the factors that affect how people react to ill health.

Can anyone explain these, preferably an example?
