Thread: Mobile Forum Display Issues

Nas - August 9, 2019, 12:43 pm

So when I browse HF on my phone in the marketplace or any other section that has a stickied thread, I'm not able to see the full title and it's cut off.

Another issue is the full thread title on the non-stickied threads not being able to be seen( three periods indicating not full thread title) and you're forced to click on the thread to actually see the title, I would suggest making another line under the title and have the thread title continue there for ease. The third picture is how I feel would be a solution for this.

I am facing the same issue. I just noticed that.

This has been an issue for some time, I did report it to Xerotic in March but I'm not sure if he forgot about this issue or what.

I have noticed this issue just never really cared to post it or had time too.
