Take a look at this, it's clear that he is back scamming again.
Again multiple methods on the market within a day.

Same post behaviour, same grammar, same methods.

Posting here to warn people.

You are 14 years old, your reputation is worthless. You came crying to me that your feelings are hurt and begging me to change my post as I've asked in your thread if you are 14 years old :D ?

My age doesn't start with a 1 idiot.

TheInferno - August 9, 2019, 2:29 pm

I am asking what you compare your facts with ? I don't see maximum limit per threads that can be opened. And what do you mean by "same methods" - I've sent only 3 vouch copies and I am waiting for reviews. I don't know what your problem with me is :D

If you are really 2 days new then why are you calling the popularity system, reputation?

The gig is up Honor.

It's reputation everywhere else. Just checked how it is called here

It's clearly called popularity here, even in your Alerts it says * modified your popularity.

There is no reason to look up anything you wouldn't have known better if you was really new, that is just a lame excuse.

You can stop now, really, i already reported you.

Preventing you from making victims is all the reason that i need.

If omniscient tells me that you are not a multi i will definitely apologize but till then this community alert stands to warn buyers on this marketplace.

I don't have any doubts else i wouldn't have opened this and reported you.

I don't have the admin tools that Omniscient has.

Last time you got the communities support, i was proven right in the end anyways.

This time the report went straight to Omniscient instead.

How long does it take for stuff like that to get resolved ?
I am tired of waiting..

I am tired of waiting..

This is a community alert, getting resolved means getting you banned. If this was a deal dispute, this could get resolved in two ways, on your favor or delphine's.

And, if ever you are marked as an innocent guy, this community alert will stay as it's an alert. Your pop will not revert back since anyone can pop you for any reason they have. There's no point crying about those reds.
