The method i bought from Friyie for 350$ is a total scam, and does NOT work at all.

His initial thread is also misleading. He states many false things to begin with.

He stated that the method does NOT include scamming , while the whole thing is BASED ON SCAMMING. Same goes for the "No selling included" bs.

BUT this is not the problem at all. The method itself does not make any sense. Even a 15 years old kid wouldn't fall for it , so it's nearly impossible to pull it off.

He provided 0 (ZERO) support ever since i paid him the 350$. I can also show proof of this. He just says i'm too dumb to make money from his method and that my persuading skills are not good enough (while i make 1k+ a month from these kind of things.)

I'm really suprised scammers like him are allowed to post and sell on this forum, so since HF Staff won't do anything about this, i advise everyone NOT TO BUY anything from this guy as it's just a waste of time and money.

Method basically involved scamming users where the thread mentioned no scam NOR selling was involved which is just conflicted in the ebook. But you are right and OP should provide the proof that no support was given.

First of all - I said it's not a direct scamming which it's not. You won't be considered a scammer once you do the method and I know you can agree on that.

Second of all - you agreed to "NO REFUNDS" before you started contract as I had no intention to hide behind some BS ToS.

In my eyes, you're just being too lazy to do the method. You've tried it barely one time and after you were unsuccessful to pull it off you simply opened a dispute for no reason. I had no complaints about the method so that means problem is in you and to be honest I knew I would have one customer like you.

Dispute is invalid and no, I won't refund you as you agreed to that when you purchased. I also didn't scam you for anything. I provided you with method that works and will work if you put in enough effort.

I won't write any further posts on this BS dispute.

myg0t_Andrew - August 10, 2019, 9:31 am

Hey OP, I might be able to put you on the right track when it comes to making money. Not sure if you were scammed or not but I see you won't be using the method you bought anyway.

LOL! "Not directly scamming" either you're scamming people, or you aren't. It's quite easy actually. Dispute is very much valid if OP can prove that you state in your thread the method isn't about scamming and that it indeed is. Your dodgy answer proves that you're a fucking moron. Quit being a dumbass. You have unsatisfied customers and they paid $350 for your shitty product.

"I won't write any further on this BS dispute" are you a fucking idiot? Dealing with disputes is a part of using the marketplace. Disputes is a big part of the whole contract system. Fucking stupid sentence. Lazy piece of shit.

You are writing in your thread that you made 2K in a week. Yet the only earning proof you provide is an amount smaller than what you're asking for the method. LOL.

In your FAQ you write that you can't get in legal trouble from doing this. If it is indeed scamming then you can get in trouble. Scamming is illegal, not just immoral.

"It's not directly scamming"

Convincing people to invest in something by pretending to be something you're not and then running off with the money is literally scamming hahah. Friyie you are a fucking idiotic cunt.

This is the worst method I have ever seen in my entire life. No one falls for this and the fact that appraisers vouch for it is EMBARRASSING.

Dumbass friye. You know that no one will fall for this. This is worse than Nigerian scammers trying to convince you they are princes who lost their credit card and therefore needs $100 in which they'll return $100000 within a week.

So the method is about pretending you are a supplier of counterfeit items when you are just reselling.

Anyone that is involved in such things usually does enough research, knows about dhgate, aliexpress hidden links etc. It's nothing unique, it is a very competitive method since so many people are doing it.

And more important. It's a scam. The fact that friye says that it "is not directly a scam" makes this DD very valid. If this isn't a direct scam, then nothing is.

Because they follow the path of least resistance. So when they get a product that is crap they try to give a vague review focusing on unimportant things like grammar quality, length and impressiveness of concept.

Yeah also the appraiser literally wrote that it wasn't as unethical as he thought.

The reviewer should approve the information written in the sales thread. They are the people that buyers rely on to confirm that the product is indeed what the seller promises it to be. The sales thread stated that this didn't have anything to do with scamming. Right there the reviewer should have questioned that.

I agree that the reviews are often focusing on pretty unimportant stuff which kind of sucks.
