Thread: Diving into Online Toxic Communities #1

Shaggy - August 10, 2019, 8:10 pm

Hope you get a bit of laugh xD..

So I asked my Korean friend to borrow his photos for this experiment to work in which he agreed so
Thank you to Him!

In today's Thread Episode

Diving into Online Toxic Communities : KPop Community Fans

Why am I doing this?

I asked my Colleagues to make me more better in terms of Social Engineering and more on how does a human mind works. So I accepted their ideas and here I am on my journey to get haters

Well let's get into it

I made a Fake Facebook Account and joined 2 KPop Groups originating in Brazil and pretended that I am visiting in Brazil

-It's one of the Popular Toxicity aside from Philippines

The account was made on August 2 but I just continued it in August 6 because busy

I made a post on those 2 groups with a few pics Introducing myself [Korean friend Photos]

Then I went to sleep and woke up with 200 Reactions to that post. Too many comments too so the admin decided to close the comment section

Spoiler (Click to View)

I was shocked like how far will this new account get to.

So I posted a Video of my Friend Singing Korean song...

I left it again for 1 day then when I checked it the next day I got shocked and a few reactions on the video 22-25 likes/love i think ?

500 friend Req??

I accepted them all 1x1 and then they just start tagging me to their posts. [I didn't request to be promoted]

Then the shit started. Every fucking minute there is at least 20 people adding you. My inbox is almost 200+ have unread messages.

I even got lazy to accept friends requests. But I'm just getting started I want to unravel how does KPop fans act or think if they have a mad fan dreaming on going.

So I said to myself Okay I will answer them and pretend that I'm trying to learn Portuguese [Google Translate] and replying them

Then here come's the thirsty KPop fans. Verify your real in which I just said I don't know you why should I video call with you?

They just accepted it and continued their pursue

Now now I'm not here to judge your dreams but for real ! You are like 14 years old and my Age on Fakebook is 21 yrs old

Are they desperate to Korean's that much?

Spoiler (Click to View)

And here's a really thirsty gay guy who gives LGBT community a bad image

Don't get me started there is a lot of girls sending nudes too [Pics and Videos] in which I won't post here obviously

Anyway it will be endless to Post all Message Conversations here since most of them say only 2 things

I like you Oppa!

I love you Oppa!

Moving on to the Funny Negative Parts

2-3 People said

You are not Korean you look like Spanish// I was like (???)

Then I answered how do you know?!?

She replied: Because I don't know a KPop Idol with your name and face in it

?? xD

Remember Fella's if you are a Korean and you don't have a twin in the KPop Idols. You are 100% Spanish

2nd Girl: She wrote on the comment section

Shame on you just looking for attention you are fake and liar Checks my Friends Requests

Have her requests All of my Photos are Spammed <3 by her

Messaged me the next day: Hello can we video call? I'm sorry for that I'm just making sure you are not fake

Now I'm scared to continue this Learn about how Human Mind works and Improving my Social Engineering Skills

The third I forgot and I was searching for my messages but can't seem to find her because of the thousands of friends

Now enough of that

I had earned 3000 Friends doing 2 Group Post, 1 Video Singing and some photos for profile [less than 6]

Spoiler (Click to View)

It will be maximum limit of 5000 Friends when I'm not lazy to accept all friend requests as of now.

What did I learn from this experience?

People can easily be Manipulated by a Korean based on the Hype Today

What Did I learn from this?

I post adfly links on them to check my latest posts written in korean [Google Translate]

Got 7000 Clicks within 24hrs

-I will probably use more Korean Face Bait to draw out Potential customers to my CPA

So not really waste of time.

I learned and Earned

I will probably do

Reddit and 4chan focused toxic community soon as my Group Member in HF Said

That was gold aha, "OP's KPop Adventures" lol

Gotta love how that guy was just like "Please" xD

You need to make a similar video, try cram it all into a 20 second vine lol

"Attack of the KPop fans"

I should try rust out just for the salty content, I've seen many videos of salty rust players lol

XanaxHeister - August 11, 2019, 9:29 am

Dota 2 community has been announced the most toxic community ever created. Beat that Kpop

Onireves - August 11, 2019, 9:39 am

I guess the next big think is E-Whoring as a K-Pop
