Thread: How to get FREE google home mini's - The "method"

Use this how you want, if you sell these for profit your basically selling stuff that could have been given to someone with a lot worse life than you.

To the sellers:
Don't hate me.

The "method" is easy, literally a simple website:

<https://googlenest.reevefoundation.org/>

No cracking or sketchy stuff involved besides stealing from those that may be disabled.

Thank you for the share. Someone might make use of this.

People were actually selling these? I'm not even eligible to receive one but that's pretty low for people to do this although I'm not sure if Google will only give away a certain amount.

Honestly that's terrible if people are taking these. Spotify is whatever but stealing from disabled people is a whole new story
