Hey all.

Just wanted to drop a quick update on how my stores are doing. Went on a camping trip with my family this weekend, came home to some good stats. Here's my main store's stats for the 2 days I was gone (Friday and Saturday):

Mobile Screenshot:

Video refreshing ads manager + all ads metrics (FB ads doesn't track roughly 40% of this stores sales, they're organic):

Not bad. What are your thoughts on e-commerce for custom art? I sell my art but often times sales fall off a lot.

I have no experience in the art niche.

Sounds like you'd need to either

- 1) make a name for yourself as an artist
- 2) have really really nice art that separates you from the millions of other artists out there

I was getting consistent sales and doing good however I sort of got busy/depressed and stopped being active on social media.

Well, there's your answer.

Get back on your grind and you'll see results.

Oxycodone - August 11, 2019, 8:58 pm

How do you start? How much is a good initial investment, I know facebook ads get expensive. What are you using for advertisements or platforms? What product or niche are you using? Send a PM porfas.

Knowbody - August 12, 2019, 7:56 am

Inspirational honestly. Probably gonna get overlooked. Was curious on where to start?

Finding a profitable niche first? Learning to build a store first? I have a lot of questions and I have zero to no experience with online stores. Would you care to enlighten me? Thanks lol.

WRX - August 12, 2019, 8:07 am

Curious to see what your profit/loss statements look like.

7upix - August 12, 2019, 8:11 am

how many fucking ad sets do you have and why that man holy fucking shit dude that's a god level ive seen so far i have a question about facebook ads. im a developer and i have to advertise my mobile android/ios apps. should i pay a marketing agency to do this for me because they have the knowledge and know what theyre doing or waste God knows how many days or probably weeks on buying a Udemy (warez disallowed) course to learn everything all by myself?

hexbrygd - August 12, 2019, 12:57 pm

Insane dude! Congratulations.

Makes me wanna sell crap from my apartment :) Throw your tips this way aswell!

TheChaosKiller - August 12, 2019, 12:59 pm

I would love to get started as I have a niche and a supplier to work with, but no idea how to actually create and launch things. I've watched videos, taken tutorials, and either I'm just dense in that department or I'm missing something major. What you're doing is incredible though, much respect to you.

Voxi - August 12, 2019, 2:57 pm

Any tips for beginners? How to get 1st sale or how you do your product research?

Do you dropship or you have your own private label?

Thank you!

Lindros - August 31, 2019, 3:05 pm

That is nuts man, there are enough people on here claiming this, it makes it sounds doable.

I'm hoping all these claims just aren't to sell some ebook/guide honestly.

AnGrY Bo - September 1, 2019, 9:07 am

Wow well done

Would love to receive some tips from you

Cheers
