Thread: Best Dynamic DNS? \(RAT Connection\)

hurnesohn - August 21, 2019, 12:03 am

Hello, i am looking for a great (Dynamic) DNS service.

Sites like noip are a nogo cause they blocking the connection at some point.

I see so many RAT Tools and but noone talks really about the connection behind it.

So my question is, is there a DNS Service "BulletProof", no NS Records and no blocking of connetion?

Regards daear HF Members ?

That sounds good, but what i have to do after buying an domain?

can i put just easily the 'ip:port' in and it forwards it from the domain to the ip?

Regards

But using a domain is dangerous becaus eyou have to register it with your real name and so on.
These can be easily whoised then or can you also register domains anonymously.
