Thread: [\[HQ | UNIQUE\] Sports Betting Arbitrage for Crypto-Only Casinos \[Monthly Subscription\]](#)

BlackXPearL - August 21, 2019, 11:42 pm

SportsArber (Crypto Edition)

Betting on sports is very risky. Sometimes you win, sometimes you lose. This is NOT a long-term strategy to make you money, no matter how lucky you are. I am offering a private service that allows you to bet on sports and win money no matter what the outcome. By subscription to this service you get multiple high quality signals in crypto-only casinos (needs no verification). Each of these signals allows you to make a few % return on your investment with no risk.

Unlike the betmatching signal that often for traditional bookies which needs account verification these Signals are from crypto-only sportsbookies which can be used worldwide & no account verification is needed. The signals are from the following bookies:

- Sportsbet
- Cloudbet
- Nitrogen
- BetBTC
- mBet
- OneHash
- 1xbit
- Betcoin
- Bitcoinrush
- Fortunejack
- Anonibet

Monthly subscription to the mailing list (subscription fee: 0.005 BTC)

Signals are in the following format:

Spoiler (Click to View)

Competition Soccer - Major League Soccer

Event D.C. United @ Philadelphia Union

Time (UTC) 11:30 PM Saturday 24th August 2019

Bet type Handicap

Return 1.16%

Bet 1 D.C. United +1 at odds of 1.95 at BetBTC for 51.8% of total bets

Bet 2 Philadelphia Union -1 at odds of 2.1 at Cloudbet for 48.2% of total bets

Note: the signal may only persist for a few hours and you need to grab the opportunity before it goes away.

Telegram module added: Now you'll receive the signal both in your mailbox and your telegram.

Interested in this.

1. How many signals do you send a day on average?
2. What's the usual % gain for each one?

The signals are rare and usually 1-2 per day in average. Some days you may get multiple and some days no signal. so it varies.

They signals are usually <3%. Assuming you get ~30-50 signals in a month each with 2% profit and you bet on all those signals, you can make something between 60%-100% ROI per month. so I think it only makes sense to buy this service if your bankroll is relatively high.

I recommend making a Telegram group to send the signals.

Great suggestion. Telegram module added!

I got the trial and here's my review.

All in all seems like a great service. In the past I've only seen matched betting on non-crypto bookmakers making it tough for people like me in the USA to get in.

The calls seem legit.. I checked them and the odds were spot on. That said, in general you need a pretty large bankroll to earn. On average you're going to earn about 1 percent. So while it's guaranteed, if you put down $100 you're only going to get back $1 profit. If you have thousands, it's definitely worth it.

Just a noob question...

Edit...Ok I got it.

Southside - September 8, 2019, 8:44 pm

So i have to register on all those betting sites and deposit in all of them too?

Or how can we manage to just deposit when its necessary? Cause literally you should spread at least $1k on all of them to profit.

Thanks

BlackXPearL - September 8, 2019, 10:17 pm

if you have a high bankroll you can spread it across different bookies, but if you don't you can just pick a few and only act on signals from those bookies

dimounique - September 9, 2019, 1:09 pm

Hey, could you tell me how many signals did you have in last 15 days?

Got it.

Have a spreadsheet or something we can follow your bets?

You get signals in email and telegram that look like what I indicated in my original posts. You just need to follow those signals

Fours4 - September 9, 2019, 7:17 pm

So do these signals have risk of loss? Or are they 100% going to come in profiting from arb signals are based on a simple math and as long as you can place the bets as instructed you won't have a loss. The only risk I can give you is that if the odds change when you have already placed bet in one bookie, and are about to place the second bet. In which case you can either choose to go with the one bookie that you already placed the bet and try ur luck, or still follow the signal and complete the arb to minimize any loss. This happens very rarely, but I just mentioned it for the sake of clarity. Unlike traditional bookies that may limit your account, crypto-only bookies wont do it since they dont ask for verification so you can have as many accs as you want ...
