Thread: Quick question on upgrades

Select - August 24, 2019, 9:16 am

I noticed there is 6month / lifetime l33t options. My question is, will there be a point in keeping l33t after getting ub3r? is it required to have or is the temporary option just so you have enough time for ub3r?

Sorry, just confused thanks.

Sorry if this is wrong section.

UB3R upgrade is available for 1 year only.

So if you buy L33T 6 month Upgrade and then switch to UB3R upgrade. After 1 year you will be a regular member again.

If you buy L33T permanent Upgrade and then switch to UB3R upgrade; After one year when UB3R expire you would still have L33T.

Thank you. I ordered l33t 6 month package. I am willing to pay again if its a problem no big deal. In no rush but will buy ub3r when possible.

Is it worth it what you think of it?

Is it like that retroactively for the older users?

Like do people who had ub3r before it was a year long lose their status?

Found it a bit odd that ub3r price isn't shown until you meet requirments? How much is it

I'm confused by the English; you asked do Ubers who had it before the year-long subscription lose it?

Yes.

Also is it still possible to upgrade for good?

Like l33t there is an option for 6 months and option for lifetime. I want to upgrade for lifetime.

So, no, Ubers who upgraded before haven't lost it yet. Omni goes back and forth on older Uber members though so who knows in the future, but as of right now we don't lose it if we purchased "lifetime" before.

Like l33t there is an option for 6 months and option for lifetime. I want to upgrade for lifetime. No, this doesn't seem to be an option anymore for a lifetime upgrade.

I guess I still can't upgrade because of popularity.

Is vendor status lifetime?

Is vendor status lifetime?

For Uber you need 100 posts, 50 popularity and a 60 day old account, so popularity would be an issue.

Vendor is lifetime at $100, but its not for people casually into the marketplace. For sellers looking for a few extra perks.
