I'm trying to sell a pair of sneakers but my Paypal is currently having problems so looking to sell them elsewhere. What is another good service that offers both buyers & sellers protection??

Go on StockX probably the biggest sneaker selling&buying community

And probably the safest one, if you are a seller you must ship to them first so they can check on sneakers(they must be original and DS).

StockX has high fees so if you don't like high fees and you own expensive pair you might wanna take a look at @troyd247mall on Instagram
