Thread: World Wide Art Magazine - Fangz Magazine

emotionull - August 31, 2019, 5:12 pm

I recently redesigned the art magazine that I've been running for about a year now. I'd love to hear some opinions.

Fangz Magazine is an independent artist-run online publication dedicated to sharing and promoting various forms of art, we enjoy sharing our own views when it comes to art pieces and showcasing smaller and bigger artists. We hope to help artists get their foot in the door and further in the art scene. Our main goal is to create a platform for Designers, Editors, Photographers, Videographers, Painters, Poets and anyone working in any creative field to have their work shown and made visible to a large group of people.

We'll be posting regular explorations of various designs and art styles, including but not limited to Art shows showing new releases from artists, Interviews where you can get close and personal, Fangz Museums where we explore the style and work from an artist, and much more. Really, we'll be posting anything and everything to do with visual art!

Check it out! <https://fangzmedia.com/>

We're also looking for writers if you're interested. <https://fangzmedia.com/volunteer/>

Wordpress directory is open, user enumeration is open, your host and server are visible, you have a CSRF to RCE vuln. Just the tip of the iceberg.

I've hidden the open directories, disallowed user enumeration, hid my host, I have some questions about the vuln you mention however.

Pretty basic blog theme, doesn't stand out with anything so you must be having some super unique content to attract visitors.

I wanna work on the forum theme a bit more personally. Feel as if it still sort of has an old feel to it. I just need to find time to sit down and do a little more work on it. Thank you very much.

Hi! It looks nice and loads fast. I like the logo, it transmits art. I'd consider to add more colors besides red (to make the CTA more powerful).

The submenu doesn't work for me (on the menu bar, for POSTS and ABOUT). I like the individual post design.

The interviews sections it is easily accessible, it could be a lot better simplifying it. You have all posts beginning with: Image + INTERVIEWS + Interview: Title. My recommendation is to make it look cleaner using just: Image + Title. It's implicit that belongs to the interview section, by the title.

Also, the "Continue to the category" text could be more friendly, just changing it to: "View more interviews".

I wouldn't center the text for "Latest articles", it'd look better align to the left. You should consider adding an AJAX load there too.

Really good work, keep on with the magazine! ?
