Thread: Are you arrogant or Humble with people?

crixus - September 2, 2019, 6:00 pm

define yourself and describe on this thread.

Crimin4L - September 2, 2019, 6:01 pm

I'd say I used to be a very ignorant person but over the years I've humbled myself in many ways, But like most I still have a long way to go :D

Interesting. What actions did you take to humble yourself?

Phorus - September 2, 2019, 6:04 pm

Used to judge everyone who I met, but I've learned that we're all unique. I would like to think I'm much more humble and non-judgmental but judging is human nature.

As for how I changed, I think it really depends are you influence circle and who you take on from.

Lindros - September 2, 2019, 6:06 pm

I think it depends on who I am dealing with honestly.

Well I really didn't take no so called actions. It's more about the energy you let in & give off. Over the past year and a half I've become a different person with what I allow in my life. I meditate more and relax to clear my mind especially when I am having a bad day :/ I restrain myself from using certain words that draw bad energy towards myself. There's a bunch of things that i take into consideration now, mainly energy though :)

A + - September 2, 2019, 6:14 pm

I can act arrogant but I am a fairly humble guy. I just don't put up with crap.

eXero - September 2, 2019, 6:15 pm

It really depends on the person tbh. You have to be confident with females yet remain humble.

HF.Psych - September 2, 2019, 6:31 pm

I try my best to be a humble person. I will always try to be the best person possible, you never know how bad someone's day may be, so being nice, kind and humble may make their day a bit easier.

norred - September 3, 2019, 10:38 am

I am not the mosr humble person but I try my best to be.

In one sentence:

I put out the same energy I want to recieve.

Deal - September 3, 2019, 10:40 am

Was always an arrogant guy. But now I'm quite humble.

Linux X - September 3, 2019, 10:42 am

Im kindly good to all, sometimes im too mad to my self for that.

pein - September 3, 2019, 11:04 am i used to be a very polite kid, like perfect gentlemen, smart, i stayed out of trouble you get a lot of problems, and people bother you with shit i used to joke a lot so people don't categorize me as a nerd or anything, that worked but i went overboard with it then i became very sarcastic, bored of life, but actually at 14 i had an awesome style and a low opinion of myself i had a natural control over others, but i was scared to use those same exact techniques with people older than me. and that's weird cause i totally should of i had a part of my life trying to be like others, didn't work out, i ended up unhappy, angry and made mistakes im arrogant, or at lest that's the default mode, i got high expectations from others, but i do the same with myself, open mind and strive to improve you cant have it other way, people take advantage of you, and i don't care about their first impressions that much (except girls) but anyway it's good to play a rôle and when you start talking they realize that im kind of fun and intelligent and not that asshole they thought i be i got this reverse, sarcastic attitude, so i cant take compliments seriously, and my compliments sound like an insult, yet my real insults are deep wounds

i had issues with this, like sometimes i couldn't express what i really felt, the way i did because i got used to not show any weakness i often joke a lot and people are attracted to me, i hate it, i don't need it i had some experience with human auras and how each color affects each other. mine is yellow/red, basically im a generator, so i can be temperamental and aggression is natural, not in a physical way, but im fighting when im backed in a corner, and switch my lazy mode to a more hyperactive when solvign problems yellow is more intellectual and like a barrier, so i got a very good sense of who the energy vampires are and who is only trying to leach on me, you don't need to know all about this, but you would be surprised how well it explains some weird situations you had, like people complaining about dumb shit

i used to be anti social, now more ambivert, i don't need conversations, but im ok with it, i don't initiate a lot but if it happens to be in one im doing well im more attracted to random people, and i don't mind to be the passive part, but not when they try to ask things of me and manipulate me all the time

Slim - September 3, 2019, 12:54 pm

I have become more humble over the years. However, when I work out too often or on bad days I get a bit more narcissistic still and judge people. Shouldn't do that, and am working on it.

CRAWNE - September 3, 2019, 3:40 pm

No, not at all. I'm kind and try my best to be as kind as possible. Unless the other person is very arrogant or I strongly dislike a person, of course.

PrinceOfTruth - September 3, 2019, 4:43 pm

I'm a humble person. I have strict morals.

Haha I'd be right behind you scooping that sh*t up xD

Pawnhub - September 3, 2019, 5:05 pm

I live and let live so I don't know what you'd consider that.
As long as anyone ain't looking to start shit were good.

Rigel - September 3, 2019, 5:13 pm

I'm actually very humble - especially at work. I'm given supervisory responsibilities without the pay and I don't feel the need to treat the employees like shit. My bosses want me to do it like them but I can't - they are the ones I need to gain favor from as I delegate the workload to them and lead their way to success.

Anyone with a bunch of HF awards isn't really humble imo. Buddha would say drop the ego, worldly possessions, and attainments.

I'm neither arrogant nor humble, but is adequate. I be what I need to be. I am what I am.

There are no excuses for any amount of arrogance... that being said, the Lord would say being humble is the ONLY answer.

Killy - September 4, 2019, 6:27 pm

never had shit so fk being humble

Regulus - September 4, 2019, 6:28 pm

I wouldn't define myself as arrogant.

Cod3ing - September 4, 2019, 7:45 pm

Life has gracefully made me humble. I think there was a long period in my life where I was an arrogant person and I believe this stemmed from my obsession for money and power. In my case, I managed to attain most of what I desired only to find out that this was not what I wanted from life. I discovered that what I was searching for was not obtainable from the outside but only from within.
