Thread: Over 8 years of Hack Forums

Sir - September 3, 2019, 9:05 am

8 long years on HF, it's had its ups and downs, but it'll always be a cool place to be. I look forward to the next 8 years.

Personally, I'd love to see The Alliance return, but I know that's something that doesn't need a sequel.

If you could bring back any one thing to HF, what would it be?

RiP Xbox sub.

Gaming in general is basically dead on HF now.

Fortunate - September 3, 2019, 9:32 am

Been here for 3 years, not sure what I'd bring back.

Probably the Counter-Strike sub-forum. The FPS section feels like a big mess now with other games. I understand the merging as it wasn't that active but it was still most active of other FPS game-subs. Anyway I love the new changes, there's so much more.

Yeah, sadly. Mostly joined because of Xbox live codes and gaming.

That's how I felt about Halo being removed. Like, I could post about it in the FPS section, but I don't wanna be bombarded with Fortnite and Pubg threads lol.

Hasn't Discord basically stolen all the gaming topics? It is after all a platform designed for gamers.

Quote:but I don't wanna be bombarded with Fortnite and Pubg threads lol.
Section gets a few threads per day. Hardly what I'd call being bombarded. I do need to add some thread prefixes there.

I'd bring back the original Black Reign theme but with full mobile response compliance.

Meh Discord is lame though honestly. And if you can't advertise Discord on here it kinda hurts finding people to play with on here. Not much, but a little bit.
You are right though.

May have exaggerated a bit, the prefixes would be a nice touch though.

The last time I saw that happen (in the Java section) was Cosa Notra creating programming competition threads. And before that the group The Empire had a lot of threads but that was a LONG time ago. Its kinda a shame since the Java language is really kicking into gear now that they're on the new release cycle. There's a lot of potential threads to be made. I imagine the same could be said for other sections, but I don't pay attention to other languages much.

Quote:Biography

Starstruck joined after being invited to join in 2011 by CAT Deliaaaa, who was closed shortly after. The section that caught Starstruck' eye was the Halo section. That's where he spent the majority of his time, after signing up. He mainly used the section to find other people who wanted to play Halo, but not long after him being active in the Halo section he decided to start up a Halo Boosting Service.

Of course there is more to this but it's just a teaser for now.

After all the years I've been here I don't think I'd bring anything back, I think where HF is now is better than what it used to be, just for the fact there are a whole lot more features now compared to back then. I've definitely just fallen out of the attitude of wanting to be on forums, I love the community feel but if I'm being honest, obvious trolls will get on my nerves along with users who are obvious about putting in the bare minimum in discussions/threads just for a better post count. It got to a point where I just got annoyed daily just reading threads and just got tired of it, but I occasionally lurk as I consider this my 'home' of all forums I'm on and there's still interesting discussions and developments that go on.

Why would you assume that?
A lot were banned for pretty good reasons.

If you could bring back any one thing to HF, what would it be?

Well hello fellow dinosaur!

Honestly, I miss some of the old members. Judge Dredd, Crow, some of the crews.

I miss a lot of the older stuff we used to do together as a community. The get togethers, late night skype sessions. I miss a lot of the old crews too.

Id like to see a restricted section like concept where you can build advanced content that only advanced members, members that have been around a long time, etc could access.

The things I want to bring back will not be compatible to 2019, so I prefer them in the nostalgia. Good to see you, Sir.

I don't see that happening without the result being similar to what the VIP section was.

Gaming isn't something I ever discussed on HF. I regret missing out on the Minecraft server, but other than that... I can't say I feel like I've missed anything.

Was console modding big here?

Not really. There were people who discussed jtagging but other than that ot was mostly boosting or general game discussion.

Although that amount time spent online does seem so little compared to my account age.

I wonder who has the highest time spent online.
