Thread: eWhoring still profitable?

David Duarte - September 3, 2019, 4:57 pm

Hi, I've been in this forum maybe a week ago. I started with eWhoring 3 days ago and i've only got disappointments and a lot of dick pics, i don't know if it's my ability to talk or the quality of traffic, I've managed to talk to about 40 guys without having achieved a single sale, i don't asking sharing your methods or your traffic source, i only want some recommendations on how to talk and give me your opinion of my method, i am from Venezuela, a third world country as many will know and the minimum salary is about $ 3 per month (and no, imnot kidding) i dont want to be rich with this, but i wish i could make about $10 a day to survive here, thanks about my "method" i only search chat sites and post my kik username, then i get the traffic but i only get timewasters and dick pic guys, i will really apreciate any help

I've seen a couple of guides on other forums, not quite sure about this forum ,but it's worth a look.

Try switching to snap. Plenty of guides here. 10$/day is nothing.

Seems like your Traffic is LQ. The best is if you find something unsaturated :)

you think so? i don't know what to do honestly

Doesn't matter what platform you are using because there is one important thing that you need to consider.

EVERYONE WANTS SOMETHING

On Snap, it's instant gratification. Some pics or a short video. Something that they can look at whenever they need it.

On Kik, it's companionship. someone to talk to exchange things with.

All of this is general but it all goes back to everyone wanting something. You need to find out what that something is and then try to sell it to them. If they are sending dick pics, they are desperate for attention. Sell that to them.

If you're going to make money, you need to provide something in return. There's no way around that. And you can't sell steak to a vegetarian. Find out what they really want and then sell it to them. If you want an easy way to find out what sells, just pay attention to what each person is telling you. Basic market research. Then get a pack that has what the most people are talking about.

If you do half of what I suggest, you should make more than $10 a day.

best comment ever, thanks a lot dude i was thinking about that, 90% on kik wants companionship, but the problem is my pack, i just have 50 pictures as much and that method requires content for a week/month i will try with sc to get a best pack, anyway thank you for sharing your ideas yeah it works but you have to find the right crowd basically and be able to spot the time wasters.

do what they say try snapchat. with jailbreak its possible to be able to make alot of cash with the right pack

There will always be horny/lonely guys out there willing to pay for premium, think outside the box and keep trying. You'll get loads of timewasters everyday but just learn how to spot them out early on and you should be good.

marissabella969 - September 6, 2019, 7:37 am

yes, it s still profitable. good luck
