Wolfpack General Recruitment

Introduction

Welcome to the general recruitment for the Wolfpack group, within this thread you can apply for the group, you can read up what the group is about and see if you will be worthy of joining the group. This recruitment will be a little different to all the previous recruitment threads as we are starting to make the whole process a bit more strict and don't want to accept everyone anymore.

Group Infomation

The Wolfpack group is based on general discussions, This means we welcome all discussions no matter what they are based on. As long as they are not against the Hack Forums rules then we allow it. We are a group that wants to stand out loud and proud no matter if other groups are trying to beat us we want to be the best no matter what. We are a group that works as a team to make sure everyone is in a great place no matter what it takes. We are a pack, not a group and we come howling from the wild, beware.

Group Requirements

Your Hack Forums account must be six months or older.

You Must have 500 posts or more.

Your trust scan must be in decent shape.

You must be fluent in English.

You must not have any open disputes.

If you are a troll or a low-quality poster you are not welcome.

Your warning level can't be any higher than 30%

Wolfpack Application

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

Because you guys do seem all right, and I do enjoy discussing many things in detail. You have mature requirements leading me to believe the conversations should be interesting. Should I come across topics I find stimulating to my interests, I'd definitely find that would reinforce my ambition to be involved in that particular thread, which won't die as they do in the lounge.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

Ain't gonna lie, I have some days where I can't get on at all, but in saying that yes I will make an attempt to. I come on daily to post to the daily thread at the absolute least. It's not much more effort to open a group forum and make least a couple posts.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

Current affairs, foreign affairs, geopolotical relations, geopolotical struggles, Australian and US politics, world history, science news, scientific dilemmas/paradoxes, electrical engineering knowledge, as well as a strong and clear vision of most things I find interesting. I have a very active brain, and can discuss almost anything in detail. If it's a discussion and I have the opportunity to impart knowledge that I have, I jump at that first chance to elaborate and educate.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

I'll do my best to do so, but I'm in Australia so the timezone could make it difficult to reply as it's posted. Unless I'm doing an allnighter. As I come come online daily, it's just a matter for me to get into the habit of opening the group forum and havg a flick through to see what stories my curiosity. I have no interest posting in threads I have no knowledge in, nor any ambition to shitpost to create clutter group.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

Well I don't see why I shouldn't be accepted? ?

But in all seriousness, I've been on HackForums for over 10 years, and spent plenty of time learning and reinforcing skills and information I have. I believe I could be an asset to the group in an indirect (but possibly direct) way.

Extra (optional)

I'm a kiwi, I'm 25, and I know many things. Too many things, jack of all trades like knowledge both with trades, and general knowledge.

I typed this all on my phone while I get ready for work so if any words or spelling are out of place, I assure you it's my gesture based autocorrect and slippery hands, not lack of English fluency.

If you want paragraphs as answers I'm gonna be strugglin, but can probably expand it later it when I get some time.

I am terrible at talking about myself and what I like give me facts and questions and I'll give you answers. Very wide ranging variety of knowledge gives me a good amount of world experience, but also scientific and technical knowledge.

Shit, I stone face explained why surge protectors will never be built in an appliance as it's designed to fail this creating a repair job later consumer law guarantees the customer favour in. Explained the electrical technology behind how they work, what they do, and how I'll replace it instantly if he brings it back dead. Explained consumer law stating everything I'm saying is over and above, plus looking at the local power company information sheets they recommend surge protectors for household appliances as Australian electrical mains are full of electrical noise. So damaging. Obviously nothing compared to a surge.

Anyway this fop tried telling me I'm lying and I don't know what I'm talking about. My franchisee was on the salesfloor. Called him over and he instantly calls the customer out on the no surge protector on Australia of all places.

So what you'll plug your 8000aud TV into a shitty electrical socket in a 70 year old house with aging copper infrastructure + intense heat of Australia (effects on transmission lines over huge distances produce HUGE amounts of noise) - but he'd object to 35aud for a 1 socket suicide board with a lifetime warranty and I have in writing that I'll replace it on the spot if it's dead and they bring it back n receipt no questions asked. Easy to credit claim on because electrical faults are so fucking common

I used that as a blunt example without all the condescension and he actually apologised to me. Realised rather than listening to the facts, he's just distrusting of sales staff and places way too much weight other information his simpleton friends fed into him.

Life's good when you're a fucking nerd and the boss endorses you going blunt hard fact to close the case, seal the deal, make problem go bye bye.

That's why you should have me.

I will most definitely apply as soon as my warning level dropped, if at that time you are still recruiting ofcourse.

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

I miss the fun and interesting things that happened in the groups I was in back in the day. I am interested to hop back in and hang with my buds from the olden days.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?
Yes I have been hugely active in other groups before and I believe we actually beat the record of the fastest thread closed by max posts.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.
I love talking about the current going ons in the world, and talking about business opportunities.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?
Yes every thread in the wolfpack that is made will receive some type of engagement from me.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?
Because I am an user that exceeds the qualifications, and i can bring some quality to this group. Not saying that other users in this group are not quality, just saying that I would be a good addition.

Looking forward to hanging with the boys again!

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?
I'm genuinely curious what it's like to be in a group. Never been in one here. I'd like to know if things are as bad as one would logically conclude, including giving away a percentage of your sales threads and the likes and membership payment deals in order to stay in the group. If that does not apply to your group, I'll happily join and hopefully spread some common sense and logically sound statements in order to combat misinformation.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?
Depends. Sometimes I'm busy with programming projects because that's my job but overall I'd say I post at least once a day here on hackforums with a maximum of like 90 posts if there's something major going on. If there are no interesting threads to post in, then I see no point in keeping threads alive although I am willing to create activity/threads myself for specific purposes.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.
Common sense. Mythbusting and generally correcting flawed logic. Some people still believe pigeons explode for example. You'll find me scientifically breaking that kind of stuff down. I'm also down to help programmers in your group who are in need of help, so code reviews, corrections and improvements are my specialty.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?
Define contribute. If you mean post, well that depends on whether or not the thread is still active for one. I'd hate to be the one to open up old discussions that have been done and done. It's also a matter of what the thread is about. If I'm not knowledgeable on the field of the discussion, I'll most likely simply ask for an explanation and if I can help or correct someone's statements with sound evidence or content that generally adds to the quality of the thread, I'd be happy to do so. But like I said, I'm not gonna count all the stars in the sky.

Why do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?
I've got one response to that: All you'll get from me is the truth and nothing else, if that's something you're not interested in, then I'm not interested in joining either.

Extra (optional)
I'm a programmer, which means I make computers listen to my fingers. It's fun to see projects come to life. Now, I know I haven't been here for a full 6 months yet, but I don't plan on going anywhere.

Wolfpack Application

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

I've been to various Hack Forums groups during my stay here on HF and I see Wolfpack to be another great chance to get around with the community, create projects, develop new business adventures and chat around the sub-forum about our everyday life. I feel like the groups that focus on the general tend to be way more active and striving compared to the other groups around here. Like almost everyone, I love to be apart of a closed community where everyone knows each other. The feeling of contributing to people who you know is more fulfilling than making posts around the sub-forums of HF.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

Yes obviously. I find myself to be very active when it comes to group activities, posting. contributing to the community to thread posting.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

Here's a list of topics that I'd be great to talk about at the moment.

- Gaming, esports,
- Personal life, work, innuendo, funny stories
- Business, opportunities for joint ventures, crypto talk
- Gambling to some extent, betting, odds, prediction threads
- Graphic designs, animated avatars, group signatures
- Custom Wolfpack video-editing and memes

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

I will most likely reply and contribute to every thread that is around. I feel like it's important for the original poster to be acknowledged of his thoughts/work a way or another.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I've been to so many groups at this point that I feel like being accepted would be an honor. I've been to previous instances of Wolfpack before but I decided to leave due my studies at that time which lead to inactivity. I feel like you should really to take advantage of an active user like me for the time being. Feel free to kick my ass at any time if you don't find me performing.

Thank you for reading my application. I appreciate it.

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?
Seems like a very active and friendly group. It would be nice to be part of the community as well, always a bonus making new friends!

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?
Yes, of course I'm willing to be active daily. I tend to be on HF most of my time during work on my mobile so I'm on and off all day long regardless. (Plus gotta do those small hacks!). I'm always fairly active on Discord as well if this group has its own server. I will contribute a lot.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.
The main discussions I'd love to have with other users is music, I enjoy most genres ranging from UK Grime, EDM, DNB, Rock, Metal, Hip-Hop.

On to the deeper side of things, I will have a conversation with any user who is in need. If they're struggling with their mental health I will always be there for them, no matter who it is. I love being there for people and making them happy.

I will discuss a lot about animals and pets. Cause who doesn't love having little pets? (I'm a cat owner, so mainly cats lol)

My general discussion isn't mainly IT/computing side of things if I'm honest. It's not something I'm particularly skilled in I won't lie, but I'm still happy to get involved with any topic regardless.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

Like I said in my previous answer, I'm quite literally willing to chat about anything to anyone. I've always said in threads my PM is always open to anyone. Of course I'll be on most threads, getting involved and meeting new users.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I believe everyone will gradually love me as a user, I'm the most down to earth guy. I'm not one to get into arguments. Believe me if you bring me into this group, I will contribute as much as I possibly can to fulfil Wolfpack's and users needs.

Extra (optional)

For anyone who knows me already through HF will know I can bring a lot of chat to the table. I'm prepared to listen rather than reject criticism in what I'm doing on HF.

Always room to learn new things, creativity isn't limited.

Thank you for taking the time to read through my application. Good luck to every other user who has applied as well.

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

I've been seeing a number of mature members with the WolfPack branding around the forum and it has caught my eyes. I'm not the person that's big on running behind HF groups, but I'd like to be a part of a group that I can contribute more to again. I've done my research and found that WolfPack seems to be the group that fits me the most and I'd be able to contribute a lot more than I can to a few others.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

I've already made the decision to be dedicated to the group as long as I am accepted. I'm online daily and I would definitely be participating within the group discussions within my hours.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

I would personally discuss some of my general interests within the fields of Technology, Graphic Design, Entrepreneurship, Software Engineering, Science and Fashion. I'd also be discussing other interests that I come about through my daily research that may also be of interest to members of the pack.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

I'm mainly applying to be able to contribute more in some way so I am definitely willing to contribute. I may not be able to join in on every single discussion due to the fact that I won't have knowledge on everything, but I am always up for sharing more and learning more with other intellects.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I'm applying with the will of mass contribution within any forms that is possible. I'm also a mature individual that can be a valuable asset within the group. I'm ready to share as much as I can and I'm also ready to learn as much as I can.

Extra (optional)

You don't have a section for me to tell you more about who I am so I would use this section.

I'm Max, but I'm also known as ' Maxorg ' within the fields of business. I'm a Creative Director with 8+ years of experience within the creative fields and I also own a creative agency that's 4+ Years old. My main focus is Flyer Designs, Corporate Branding, Thread Designs, Photography and Videography. I have an interest in learning more within CGI and Music Production.

I have a high interest within the fields of business. I've decided to be an entrepreneur at a young age and I've founded over 10+ businesses throughout my years. Some of the brands that I've founded were not successful, but I always keep my drive and I'm still pursuing the business opportunities within my field of interests.

I have an interest in fashion and I'm also the founder of a growing fashion brand. I aim to provide authentic styles that's affordable to all demographics.

I've always had an interest in Software Engineering and I've studied a number of programming languages throughout my years. I haven't worked on any major projects with the knowledge that I have, but I do plan to take it more serious and find a winning project that I can make a difference with.

I'm also into sports. I play football (some of you may call it Soccer) and I'm also into MMA. I have an interest in BasketBall, but I haven't really took the time to sit and get into it as much as the other sports I put my focus to.

I'm a down to earth person. I enjoy having intellectual discussions and I also enjoy sharing or learning in any little way possible.

I can write a book on myself, but I don't want to bore you with everything. You would definitely learn more about my personality as long as I'm accepted within the pack.

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

Well, i have came across some lounge posts, with lq discussions. I hope with the new group, we have some seriously nice and leveled discussions (hq). I have a new job since 1,5 years now. Finally started on my dreamjob. Pretty sure the job is interesting enough for some hq discussions.

Im active a few hours a day. Checking out all forums. Always in to learn, to react, to write and to help. Really trying to do even more for the community. Hoping that entering a interesting group will motivate even more!!

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

Well as mentioned above, im active daily. So this should be no problem at all for me. Im kinda hyped to even be able to join you guys in the subforums.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

Brexit, Crypto signals, Series, Fitness/food tips/tricks & many more.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

Not every thread possibly, as we would like to keep it HQ, i will only be actively in threads i hve knowledge off. So if there is a discussion about chemistry' H2O mixed with CO2 blabla, ill probably wont be active there. Since i font have anything with chemistry. :)

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I am a nice person , im always helpfull, atleast i am an adult, im most certainly not a troll.

For I have another forum to participate in and be a part of. I am really active and I get bored easy also I see there are a lot of real active members in this group and I would like to be apart of you guys.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

Hell yeah bro I will probley make threads and posts every single day I also read a lot of stuff and some times dont post if its somthing I don't know about but I probley will post a lot more then other people I know people have to have a life but HF is a big part of mine I post a lot I was gone 6 years but im back now.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

Seeing that its a lounge group I would make threads that are probley like lounge threads, I am getting old I been around for a min. I have a lot to discuss about but probley mostly life, general discussions. Maybe some weird conspierecy threads here and there.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

Yes I will give it my best shot if its somthing that doesn't interest me I might not post but I will definitely make a lot of threads and posts in the sub forum.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I wouldn't say I deserve to get accepted more then any one else but I am really active im sure you guys have seen me around.

Extra (optional)

You can check my threads there not always the most high quality but I am very active, I also drop methods and give aways once in awhile hoping to start doing more in the future once I get a better grip on my financial situation. If I dont get accepted I really dont care you guys got a dope ass user bar and I think you guys are pretty cool I wont loose sleep over it but I would be happy to join.

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

When i post i usually find myself unintentionally engaging with other WolfPack members more than others, Your members seem to be some of the best HQ posters on HF and i would love to be a part of that!

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?
I have been looking for a reason to become more active, Absolutely i would participate.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

Social Engineering, Niche Money Making Methods that aren't covered by any Ebooks and actually work -.- , General topics surrounding ethics, Philosophy and much more.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

I would, As i explained during the first question, I find it quite easy to post on any wolfpack thread already as the responses aren't LQ and further the goal of the discussion, I enjoy this and have done so as recently as Today with your member BTC.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I tend to only post HQ content and always try and help new members or advise those who may unintentionally be breaking the rules, I conduct myself well and properly and i believe i would compliment an already strong roster of group members and former leaders!

Extra (optional)

I've spent long enough not involving myself with groups as i was always on and off the forums, I feel now that i am able to commit more time and would love to benefit others with content that i will be bringing. I would love to do this under the banner of the WolfPack. Thanks for Considering me.

It's nice to have mate's to chat with. And it gave a reason to log on HF more often. I've seen that you like to talk about every subject so I will participate on a lot of different threads if it's interesting.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

My main work is barman/manager so I can talk on very different subject like with my customers. And after my work my hobby is to power on my computer to write some code and making the impossible with IOT devices. I also like to do some legal pentesting (I'm done with shits like RAT and Botnets it doesn't interest me anymore and there is nothing to learn). And I like to play RPG video games when I just need to relax.

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

I'm looking for more engaging discussions that what is currently available to the public on HF. I hoping that learning the personalities of a group of members will lead to deeper and more interesting conversation. Imagine attempting to talk to a group of strangers compared to talking to your classmates. Sure, both groups don't involve super intimate relations, but regular discussions with classmates allows you to learn the basics of someone's personality, and how to get the most out of an engaging discussion with them.

I've also been inactive in many online communities recently, and would like to get back into the group mentality of the internet.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

Of course, to be honest- probably not daily, but quite frequently. I have a weird work/school schedule and some days prevent me from being able to dedicate any time to HF. (This is why I can't get my 100 day award..)

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

Im currently a college student, and not too sure of my path, so I can appeal to a lot of "new-adulters" and would love to discuss things like adult life, and getting started. I am interested in application development and system administration, chemistry, physics, math(kinda), SRPP type things. Also am interested in getting opinions for friendly discussions regarding real life situations.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

Willing? Sure, I have no problem participating in conversations that are uncomfortable for me. I can take an unbiased look into ideas and view both sides of a situation. However, like I said with my odd schedule, there is a chance I can missed a thread here and there, but I will try my best :)

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I'm competent, not an idiot, have a relatable past, and am friendly. Why wouldn't you want someone like me?

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

Because I know a few people already in the group (not personally) and apart from that I've seen that the group has a lot of matures I want to blend in with a group of professionals on Hack Forums. The name says "Wolfpack" and I am ready to follow the pack leader (Howling). A group that is itself a leader in its field is an honor in itself. Working with you will enhance my knowledge and working under the guidance of the experienced members will encourage me to work even more for the development of the group as well as for me.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

Yes, I will be active but I generally tend to be inactive during festivals and family occasions. Also, birthdays. I am the type of person who will both debate and converse with enthusiasm and eagerness to learn, the type of person who will actively engage with others in an attempt to better themselves and the person being talked to.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack. Art - There are many different kinds of arts that I admire (Movies, Television, Music), I often like to discuss them to hear someone else's opinion too.

Business & Marketing Techniques

I stay away from when it comes to any religion. I'm far from those topics where you just become rude to the other person and try to insult. I hate being insulted too.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

If you just need a 1 liner LQ post then I'm sure I can contribute to every thread but if the thread has my interest I'm sure I'll give 200% to be HQ and share what I have.

Apart from contributing in every thread, I can bring in some help with SMM Panel's for which I am good at since 2012 on Hack Forums.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I think I should be accepted because I can't wait to be active in this subforum, I love all these discussions, and would love to give away to the HF community under the name of Wolfpack. This is one of the greatest groups out there, and please note that I am not in this just for some user bar, I am actually in it for the section topics, and a lot more, way more than a user bar. I also would like you to not judge me over my low post count. I've been a member since 2012, but have donated a lot to this forum, and can't wait for being able to be a part of this incredible group. I am just asking you to give me a chance, as this would be big. I would love to be a part of Wolfpack, because it is one of those groups that are amazing, and are simple and unique, not the average group that ends up dying down in over 1-2 months.

Extra (optional) I'm Amey. I'm a 25-year-old currently residing in India. I'm a bit of a part-time gamer when I'm not busy or at the gym then I'll probably kick back and have a few games of Dota 2 or be active on Hack Forums. Every weekend I and my couple of friends plan for an activity outing where we sometimes play Cricket, Soccer and even Snooker. These outings are fixed as the life we expect is not good with everyone so we need fresh air to get some spare of negative thinking.

I've said above I feel bad when insulted (Jumping out of such conversations) and please forgive me if you feel my words are not correctly placed in the application.

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

I have not been apart of a group on hackforums for a long time.

The last group I was apart of got closed down due to the owner being locked out of his account.

I really enjoyed being apart of a group of people who were able to communicate with each other on a daily basis and not only talk about this related to the forum but also things that they were going through in their personal lives. I like to help other people to the best of my ability. (Some say its a curse, and others say its a blessing) Also, the name of the group just happens to be my favorite type of animal. I love wolves.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

I WILL be active in daily threads.

Even when I go on vacations I tend to post a few times each day on my phone.

Recently I just got back into using hackforums as my college semester comes to a close, I have a lot more free time on my hands now!

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

I would love to talk about education.

What kind of subjects each one of you have studied or plan to study in the near future.

I also am trying to learn a few new languages so maybe we could talk about that as well!

If anyone is open to a discussion about video games I can definitely bring my fair share to the table.

I love ancient mythology and ancient civilizations, I am somewhat of an ancient history buff in some regards.

I tend to keep my political agenda to myself in person as I do not want to offend anyone but I would like to think of myself as more of an independent in recent years. I am still registered under the conservative party but am open to both democratic and republican candidates.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

I will Definitely be contributing to Wolfpack.

I will definitely be posting on the threads that we will be starting if I get accepted.

I love writing in general. (when it is not forced upon me)

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I am not very fond of this question.

Most people will list of their accomplishments, or what they can bring to the table.

I would rather let the wave takes it's course. I believe that we all are on a path, if I am selected to be apart of WolfPack, then it was meant to be.

If I am not selected, then I will try to improve myself so maybe in the near future I am a more worthy applicant.

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. This OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley

Wolfpack Application

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

I am looking for an active group where HF members can discuss various themes.

I would be excited to be accepted in a Wolfpack since this is my first written application for a group.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

I would be active in every discussion, no matter what discussion might be.
I became active on HF again so that will not be a problem.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.
Life, HF updates and ongoing, movies, fashion, music, politics, science, astronomy...

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?
I will try to be active on every thread and discussion.
I am looking to share my knowledge and thoughts with other group members.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?
I think Wolfpack members will find me as a great member and contributor on HF and in their group.

Extra (optional)
Nothing to add.

Wolfpack Application

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?
I have been looking for another high quality group to join to share my experiences on HF with.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?
Yes, I know activity is a absolute must have trait to be part of any HQ group. I will be as active as I can be within the group. As with most people on here, my work as an Electrical Contractor/Business owner consumes much of my time, but I still find time to be active on HF.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.
Current events, any musical/art endeavors, any and all aspects of my current business (Electricity and it's functions) , scientific news events, political events taking place in (& out) of US, cooking, country living, marketing, books, basic household repairs, general fix it tips, and basically any topic I deem I have enough knowledge in to contribute a high quality post for the members of HF and WolfPack.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?
I am willing to contribute as much as possible to remain active, HQ, and useful to the members of Wolfpack, and HF. Nothing beats a good quality conversation with differing opinions on topics everyone feels strongly about.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?
I believe I can provide much useful knowledge and conversations on a broad aspect of topics. I have seen many things throughout my time, and willing to share and learn intently. I'm always willing to be up for a conversation among other members, especially ones in need. Knowledge isn't worth learning until you have the ability to share it. Like Albert Einstein has said, "If you can't teach it to a 6 year old, you don't understand it yourself".

I would greatly appreciate the chance to be part of this group. As my last group was the Red Lions prior to Nokia2mon's departure.

Wolfpack Application

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

I would like to join Wolfpack for two reasons. The first being the fact that your member base seems to be fairly all active. I know what being in a dead group feels like and it's no fun, so I like the engagement and potential the group has to climb higher than it is now. I like talking about more than one topic too, so seeing as this group is based on general discussions makes it easier to participate. Secondly, it seems like the community cares about one another and this doesn't look like a group that's going to abandon their members and sell out. THAT is always reassuring.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

I like to be active in all parts of the forum but can surely make time and room for the Wolfpack, of course. I sometimes even run out of places to go on the forum so I'd hope the group's subforum is very active.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

I mainly talk about my vices but can set that topic aside, music, television, games, operating systems, and phones, but mostly Apple products. Windows for OS. But lately, I've been popping more into the Science, Religion, Philosophy, and Politics and the News and Happenings area of the forum.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

Yes, whether I agree or disagree with the topic of discussion, I'm sure I could contribute my feedback or comments without intentionally causing a ruckus. I kind of enjoy debates actually, depending on the topic of course.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I feel like I contribute a decent amount of thoughts, ideas, or at least valid points to the community and would like to expand my resources, share knowledge in those additional fields or areas of the forum, and meet other people with the same or even completely different interests than I do. Also, I think The Lounge is where I post most, so I'd be a pretty good candidate for having general conversations with. I try to look at and understand all perspectives in a conversation or argument, in order to better the communication of said topic.

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

- Out of all the groups here on Hackforums I feel like this one is the best fit for me. Every time I see posts from the members, they always seem very helpful and informative. It really makes me appreciate the group that much more and want to be apart of this movement. Another aspect that really interests me is the fact the group is run by HQ leaders. Being a member since 2009 has made me realize a lot of groups fail to poor leadership. Lastly, I have noticed this group is the most active, which makes me feel I can assist well due to my online time here on HF.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

- Absolutely, I am constantly navigating multiple sections of HF. There is no problem for me to add HQ posts to the group threads. I am looking to help in any way possible.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

- Nutrition
- Panic, Depression, Anxiety Support
- Weight Loss
- Building Character
- Public Speaking
- Building Your Career
- Cybersecurity

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

- Of course! As I stated, I am here to support the group as much as possible.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I believe it would be best to list the reasons why.

- Always online to assist the team.
- Can provide the group with HQ threads and posts.
- Vast knowledge of multiple categories here on HF.
- Can assist in funded projects if needed.
- Able to teach members about life-changing techniques.
- I am very friendly, so no-nonsense from myself.

Extra (optional)

- I just want to add some background about myself to give you a better understanding of my skillsets. Currently, I am the youngest National Sales Engineer in the Cybersecurity company I work for. Multiple times throughout the month I am speaking in front of large audiences about our products and teaching current employees about them. My entire life I grew up with severe depression and panic. I taught myself how to overcome all of that to succeed in my goals.

At a very young age, I learned about Blackhat activity and turned it around into a positive situation adapting Whitehat techniques. From there on I decided to spend my days reading and becoming a better individual.

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

Although I run my own team C.I.A, I wish to be part of a group also, to broaden my connections. It's not good to be closed in a single bubble.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

Yes I am willing. I am already here daily, and almost always over five hours. I have HF open virtually always. Often I find myself lacking activity HF, so I would be great to always find areas to be more active.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

I love cybersecurity and intelligence gathering. These are the ones I would most likely discuss most, and I would love to teach fellow members also about them.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

As long I have something to say, yes. I am not planning to spam garbage on everythread, but rather have a point.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I believe I should be accepted, because I have quite the experience from these forums, and unique perspective on certain areas of cybersecurity and infosec. I also run my own crew, and we can have activity together.

Wolfpack Application

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

I have never been apart of a group before. I want to see what it is like, contribute to the group, and possibly take in some advice in the process. Being apart of a group gives you a kind of trust that you don't have equally for someone who is just a L33t or Ub3r. Also I would like to help and bring ideas to the table. Not saying all of them will be amazing or terrible but I will try my best.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?
I will try to contribute as much as I can. I get on multiple times a day and contribute to all the threads I see are still relevant. I don't want to revive something that has been dead for awhile!

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.
Some current issues, programming, and whatever else is happening at that time.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?
No. I think you're asking why is he saying no? Well, if I don't seem to like a certain topic and can't stand it, I won't be negative and and annoying like some people can be. I want to be useful to the group not counterproductive which is a huge time saver for many. Back to the original question: I will contribute to every thread I want to know more about, share my ideas with, help someone out if I can, and put a different viewpoint in threads.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?
I think I should be accepted because I am useful. I will help with tasks, contribute to conversations, put my ideas forward to make the crew better, and finally try to self improve myself. I believe the best way to make others better is to make yourself better also. I will start putting up more threads (even if I don't get in) to show off who the best crew truly is.

Extra (optional)
I am a constant learner who loves to learn. I am learning to code in C++ during these stuck at home times and would try to help others with some of my past experiences. Also I spent an hour on this application. Thanks for reading it and I hope I get in!

Megatron - May 31, 2020, 9:09 am

Wolfpack Application

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?
I would like to join Wolfpack because I want to join a group of likeminded individuals and find a tight-knit community among the members of HackForums. I have always been trying to find my place here and I think the Wolfpack would be a great place to start. I'm a person who enjoys having discussions, as deep or as narrow as the conversation pertains. Moreover, joining a group and meeting new people would be a cool experience. I've only interacted with people in a very general way on here via replying to threads and creating them. Doing this, though, does not entirely grant me the ability to closely interact with members of HF in a real way.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?
If I get accepted into the group, I will absolutely be active daily in the group threads. I feel that, as a group member, I would be responsible for being an active and integral component by way of high quality posting, as well as engaging with the group's activities and discussion.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.
If I get into the Wolfpack, I would bring up discussion regarding:Current world events

Technology
Politics
Philosophy
Hobbies (gaming, reading, cooking etc.)
Money-making strategies (real estate, stock market investing, side-hustles etc.)

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

If I get into Wolfpack, I would be willing to contribute to every thread to the best of my ability. I would contribute or add my thoughts in any discussion that meets the bounds of my knowledge. I would not, however, talk in threads where I do not have anything supportive or helpful to add or if I don't have any knowledge regarding the subject.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I think I should be accepted to Wolfpack because I'm a person who can interact well with others. I aim to be a supportive and valuable person in anything that I become a part of. This means that you would be getting the best version of me in every conversation, thread, or group activity because I accept nothing less from myself. I think of myself as an active member of HackForums, especially within the past month or so. I've recently come into some free time and I hope to use that both by being in here and increasing my knowledge. You may notice that I joined in 2014, yet I only have roughly 500 posts. This is because I was just a lurker in the past few years; however, I've made the decision to become a member of value within the community. I firmly believe that being accepted into the Wolfpack would be a huge stepping stone towards accomplishing that goal.

Thanks for the opportunity to apply.

Wolfpack Application

Why do you want to join the wolfpack? I browsed through all the custom groups on Hackforums, including Nas's well-detailed thread and a few groups stood out from the rest. Wolfpack is one of them mainly due to the nature of recruitment. When compared to other groups, Wolfpack's recruitment process is very tough and only a select few members who posted their applications on this thread have been recruited to the group. This says a lot about the leaders of the group, its manifesto and about the members who are a part of this group. Hackforums is a great forum to discuss just any subject matter however I find it more valuable and effective to have a few close group of individuals whom with I could discuss, learn and share knowledge. This is the main reason why I am submitting my application to be a member of Wolfpack. Not for the userbar, not for vanity but for the individuals and the relationships that I could form. Relationships are far more valuable than a userbar and pretty colours.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily? I will. I spend a good three hours per day on the forum. If I am accepted to the group I will surely share my knowledge, help other members and contribute towards the group to the best of my ability. I will make sure that I will post one thread every day and one detailed guide (8000+ Characters) thread regarding a subject that I have experience in and passionate about, every week guaranteed.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack. Listed below are a few topics that I would most certainly bring to the table,

Graphic Design / Photo Editing / Photoshop / Lightroom

I have been using Adobe Photoshop for more than six years and I can confidently say that I have a vast knowledge with regard to image manipulation and photo editing in general. Recently I have been more focused on UI designing and Matte Painting. I will be able to help fellow members with any questions they have with regard to Photoshop, Lightroom or photo editing in general. Further, I am willing to offer high-quality thread designs for Wolfpack members free of charge.

Rich content weekly

I love content writing. Especially when my content can be reviewed by high-quality members and being able to receive their valuable feedback. Like I mentioned previously, I will be writing a high-quality thread each week about a subject that I have experience in and I am passionate about. My English knowledge and grammar is very good and because of this, I can guarantee the said threads will be of the highest quality.

History / Current Affairs

I am a World War II fanatic. If I find another member on Wolfpack who is also a WWII fanatic, we would take over the group forum guaranteed. I love to discuss world history in general with members and I have an intermediate knowledge of the subject since I studied it for my Advance Level for four years. Got an A+ too. Apart from history, world news and current affairs are also one of my favourite topics to discuss.

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread? I will. I won't be able to contribute to every thread as soon as it is posted to due time zone issues, however, I will in the best of my ability attempt to contribute to every thread posted on the group forums.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack? I believe that I could be an asset to Wolfpack based on the services I would offer to the group. I'm a down to earth guy who doesn't like to boast and talk shit. That's it.

Extra (optional) Before I explain about myself, I am well aware that my post count and account age do not meet the requirements mentioned on the thread, however, I am hoping that the leaders who are reading application will try to see past the numbers and view my contributions to the forum in the time I have joined. With that out of the way, let me give a short description of me.

I'm Turnon and I am 19 years old. I am currently doing my Degree in computer science and I'm a guitar player in a band that plays for parties and weddings. I love to watch films during my free time and I'm in the process of shooting my own short film. I never thought I would be a "Forum Guy" but, here we are. I'm not going to make this too long as I don't want to make this application a thesis. Finishing things off, I would be honoured to be a part of Wolfpack and would like to thank the leader in charge of recruitment for reading through my application

Thank you,
Turnon.

Nuzi's Wolfpack Application

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

I believe that the wolfpack could be a chill and easygoing way of meeting new people on the site, and getting into various topics. Most of my posts can be found in The Lounge or Vices. Out of my current 4675 posts, 2,305 of them are in those two categories (49% of my posts). I love mild debating with other people to get new perspectives on various situations. I am currently majoring in Psychology, and I held a very anal customer service job for over 3 years so I think i'm pretty good with people and communicating with them.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

Of course, it seems like it could be the new Lounge section for me.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

Depending on what's being discussed currently, I wouldn't get into anything political or sensitive at all. I find it pointless to debate politics, because it's an endless debate. I guest mostly I would discuss life situations and ask for advice, or vice versa and give some life advice. I also would probably try to find the gamers in the group, and try to get a game going with them or just talk about various game subjects. I also can tell you a lot about computer hardware, and some software stuff. I've always instantly picked up on anything dealing with PCs, and people I know in real life come to me to fix their hardware/software issues (I don't charge, because i'm a good friend). I'm just a pretty outgoing and social person in general, so I would get along with the other members well.

Also, depending on what types of topics can be discussed, i'm open to giving safety and general drug advice. Check out one my threads on Vices:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6038482>

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

I will do my absolute best to contribute quality posts and content to every thread, but with a job and schooling it may be hard for me to keep up constantly.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

I believe that I can bring great social discussions to the group, along with my friendly demeanor and being a laid back guy, I think that I would fit right in. It always bugs me when I just want to talk about a certain topic or a new game release but all of my online friends are busy or not on. I would hope that whenever I have that problem I can make a thread on HF, and start a discussion that way.

Extra (optional)

Thank you for reading my application and hopefully considering me for a spot in the pack. On a more personal level, my name is Zach and i'm 21 from the US. I used to work as a Service Manager for Chipotle, but I left that job and headed off to college. I attend college at a public University and I am currently majoring in Psychology, although I am not sure if I will switch after this next semester to something more computer/tech related.

I may not have the best history with some of the members on this site, but I try to patch things up with members when I can and continue to do so. Everyone goes through dark times in their lives, but i'm doing my best. I hope that I can be apart of the discussions and can bring some good advice or tips on a lot of things. If you have any questions, please PM me. Take care.

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

Trying to be more active in general, after being semi-active and registered for 5 years. I've come back to study more about Bussiness management and investing. while also working on my coding hobby and what better way to keep active and keep things going than to join a group of like-minded people who I can discuss my ideas with and overstate my wild plans

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

Yeah I'm on HF all day pretty much every day so depending on if I feel I can add something I will because I want to keep my Posting ratio low to maintain being HQ so ina long-winded way yeah sure I will(please don't just type yes.)

I don't know about Every thread but I'll be here so I'll give it a maybe (please don't just type yes.)

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

Because having me in your group add another face to our group's Political stance. Power in numbers. I could Make some Exclusive wolfpack programs or something you never know when my random skills could come in handy jack of all trades master of none as they say.

Why do you want to join the wolfpack?

I am looking for a group of like minded individuals to start projects with. Somehow it is hard for me to continuously stay motivated and keep working on a project by myself. With a strong team that relies on everyone's skills, in order to finish a project, I always found that to be easier and had a lot more fun. I hope to be able to connect with a few people in Wolfpack that also have the required skills and motivation to bring fresh and high quality products on HF's marketplace.

In addition to that, I love talking and philosophizing about various topics. I already watched two documentaries about planets that are similar to our earth today and I am really interested in extraterrestrial life. Generally I love to discuss things and hear other's opinions on them so that I can expand my own knowledge.

If you get accepted into the group, are you willing to be active in the group threads daily?

Of course, as long as there is enough activity for me to take part in, I would always be willing to take my part in keeping the group active and HQ.

List some of the general discussions that you would bring up within the wolfpack.

Extraterrestrial life
Artificial intelligence
Cyber Security
Coding
Planets
Different countries and their laws (i.e. North Korea)

If you get accepted into the wolfpack, are you willing to contribute to every thread?

As I am not in the group, I don't know that all the threads will be about and how active the group actually is. My activity on HF probably speaks for itself. I will not say "yes, of course I will participate in every single thread", because that might be a lie. But I can tell you that I would be highly motivated to participate in numerous discussions about various topics.

Why Do you think you should be accepted into Wolfpack?

Yes, I do think so. I would say I do know quite a lot about various things, thus I'd be able to participate in most discussions inside the group.
