I mean, have you heard this guy live? He is milking the autotune even more than anything.

But who cares? it's catchy so yeah.

That's just crap. How can you even like that song? It's incredibly generic. I give the song a 1 outta 10 rating.

It's a matter of taste really.

The lyrics are shit, but the song itself is catchy in my opinion.

whole new level of creeping on girls didn't really understod while a girl named after an italian bread type is a co-artist but ok

i don't say is bad but very repetitive basically a half minute song on repeat with no meaningless lyrics

i prefer rap to be unique all the way, or like half of it at least

I like the music video, It's well made but after hearing this song and Old Town Road from my workplace radio for the 10th time today I'm totally agreeing with Omni here.

Asides from listening to it over and over again. The video is pretty good to be honest.

It's good if your a 15 year old with no taste in decent music. Other than that, trash..

SIM-1729678 - September 10, 2019, 1:06 am

I love the fact that people get so defensive and verbal about the fact that they think it's trash.
"YoU MuSt Be 15 tO LiKe ThIs AnD yOu DoN't hAvE tAsTe In MuSiC"

It's just insulting for no reason. People have different tastes. You don't go to a heavy metal concert and tell all those people that they don't have a good taste in music? right?
