IDK, They just ask for your name, address, and phone number. I guess you can keep it?

They won't bill you if you don't return?

Received mine today! Online in my laundry room, so cool you can bring it everywhere in your pocket ?

Did not have to give any billing info or anything, they just cut you off after 30 days or 30 gig of data, then they will ask if you want to stay with them. They give a free charger that fits my galaxy s5 and a lithium battery for the hotspot device. Just turned that bitch on and bam online.

Got mine, works good. You just put the SIM in and the battery and it works. It activated upon first connection. Pretty nice...

This shit smacks if ur an uber driver or something, saves customer data while the drivers usually get fatty tips

I.B. RED - November 7, 2019, 1:11 am good stuff, ordered mine just now (in my dogs name)

Rsynced - November 7, 2019, 8:17 pm
Mine ran out, they say 1 per household.

Thanks for the post. Just ordered mine and look forward to trying this out.

Reyna - November 6, 2020, 4:30 am just got off the phone with support and they said there isn't any billing and if you want to return it after you just drop it off at any local location or you can give it away
