Main reason why I've opened this dispute as early as it may be is because he has cleared the btc to the address I sent to him

Very shady behaviour, should've seen this coming

An Uber acting like literal scum. If he moved coin he's probably not coming back. You really exit scammed? Are you that broke stylish?

Any members reading this please do not hesitate to use a middle man, if a member (trusted or not) does not want to use one THEN THEY ARE A SCAMMER.

I will gladly middle man any exchange that falls into my field as would the GOAT, Zexi.

Additionally it would also be beneficial to break the exchange into increments :)

Should've done in increments, you're right.

For such a high rep member like him, he could've ran off with way more. Glad it was a small amount.

I wonder what his explanation will be when he comes back on. Whatever they are, it's excuses. Who goes offline for more than a day with a deal pending lol
