Hey!

Currently there is a storm here. Huge waves I haven't seen in my life. Pretty scary. Not sure what will happen, so peace HF :)

hopefully I'll post tomorrow or soon.

Until then, going to be offline.

Quick check in! Even worse than it was before. Going to take pics soon.

Waves in the ocean looks like its middle of the damn ocean. 12ft waves at least.

camera date is wrong, it had low battery not enough time to change it. I'll post videos from same spot when storm is over.

Kinda dying down. Also looks smaller on camera than it is.

Kinda shaky from the wind ? ?

Glad to hear you're okay. Keep checking in!

Also why is the date wrong on the video because of the low battery just out of curiosity?

You can just hear how the wind is strong, stay safe and check in, HF worries about you.

Hey! Thanks! Yeah, weather was bad, house had no damage! Lost a few things around the property I'm sure ? all is normal today, aside from the thick clouds.

Girlfriend got the camera for her birthday, barely used it. Never took time to setup the date lol. I only charged it for like 5 minutes so it died in like 3~.

Hey! I'm from Ontario! I lived in Toronto! I loved it there. It's where I learned how to hack! ?
I talk about it a lot on here, but it was one of the funniest times of my life, I filled up a 100TB network drive from my student account at the TDSB (public schools, lol)

They should have put limitations on the amount a single student can make on the network drive, especially by script.

Account should have locked after like 3TB of spam. ?

And because I was copying to/from the same folder on the network drive, it was pretty fast. About 30 minutes filled about 10TB...

ran it for a whole day, lol.

came back next day, batch file couldnt make more files...

TL;DR: Teacher's couldn't save any files, such as work for the students.
