Thread: Instagram Inactive Usernames Method

IGServices - September 14, 2019, 5:16 pm

Hey, I'll try to keep it brief but this is a method that i've used for quite a while to claim inactive usernames. If you're a serious buyer i'll provide you with certain igs i've claimed and what it looks like to claim an @.

Please note that i'm only selling one copy for 2.5k in bitcoin, so if you're not serious please don't bother.

Does method involves creating similar user name and reporting to twitter about the other user id for misrepresenting you and get it transferred /assigned to you ?

I'm not sure how a middleman would work with this? But sure we can come to some sorts of an agreement

2.5k in btc > middleman

Instagrams you've claimed / method (if you're selling that too) > middle man

Middleman says he's got both (If a trusted middleman he won't expose anything) then he trades the 2.5k to you and the lgs or whatever to the person buying.

This is a method that literally has to be mentored, I don't know whether the buyer could say "he didnt teach me" after I tell him everything. I'm not sure.

That's a ridiculous excuse. So you think someone will send you $2,500, not be able to refund it and then when he gets the method he might say "he didnt teach me" ? you probably are trying to scam if you're really saying that seriously.

SocialAgency - September 16, 2019, 3:28 am

Don't tell me that you are selling people how to go to facebook support chat or explain media panel.

I'm just saying your thought process behind the reasoning is really irrational. Glws.
