Grow, Monetize and Influence with Facebook ads. I'll setup the campaigns with unique creatives that achieve the highest relevance scores, therefore better results.

Is this only for shopify/eCommerce stores? or could this also be for other business websites as well

SIM-888979 - September 23, 2019, 5:23 pm

Xitoxic is very knowledgeable and has helped me in the past with retargeting. This guy knows his shit.

Any sort of business that is valid and complies to Facebook ad guidelines

Thanks mate. I appreciate it

I can see that you're doing a great job just by taking a look at those numbers :)
Definitely would love to see your CTRs on your ads if that's your main edge.
Also maybe clarify on your thread if you bill w/ % of ad spend or fixed management rate? Up to you.
Good luck!

Hey, Thanks for your words.

Our unique click-thru rate usually lies between 3%-7% on most of our ads. The average CTR is about 3%

With good knowledge in visual graphics and design, I can create engaging creatives that are eye-catching and achieve high CTRs.

<http://prntscr.com/pag361>

Some stats from one of our latest campaigns, I know I have sorted the states by highest but still, our creatives usually achieve high relevancy scores of even 10 sometimes.

I believe most people here wouldn't have high budgets to work with, so I would charge with a fixed management rate.

Let me know if you have any other questions

Like every other advertising agency or freelancer, you should offer 1 week of free advertising (budget paid by the client of course) or at least two or three trial ads. It won't cost you anything besides max. 30 minutes per day to create the ad and publish it (besides doing some research about your client's product, website or whatever). That way your potential client could see the efficiency of your ads. Because for now, that image could've been taken from anywhere and as I can see some ads date back in 2015 and a lot changed since then, but that's not even important, whether it's your Facebook ads manager or not, you can't be expert in every field of advertising. It's very different to advertise a dentist, night club and eCommerce store.

Anyway, don't take this wrong, I'm just telling you and everyone else how advertising services work in the real world. It would benefit you too because if you offer them a few ads for free, you'll gain their trust and you'll show your work without much effort.

YI am very busy for a free trial service but what I can do is take a look at an ad account and give a brief report on how they can improve their ads and suitable targeting info about audiences in their niche

About the screenshots, Yes those are not my personal accounts, I am managing these accounts on behalf of few companies as their advertiser.

definitely not taken from somewhere, here's a short vid proof

I understand your point about giving away a free trial but I, unfortunately, cannot at this point as I am too busy all day long working on various things

xitoxic - September 26, 2019, 12:31 pm

Scale your stores in this upcoming Q4. I can scale your good products with high ROAS.

Oh man, typical HF members. Most members hopping on wagons asking for free s hit, all the fucking time;

Hence why I stopped posting here, xitoxic, I recommend you to just offer this service to people out of this forum,

Majority of the members here are 13 y/o childs who either just want s hit for free and or can't even afford this service.

Don't undervalue your knowledge, don't let it stop the grind, go out there and offer this service to real businesses if you haven't already.

Small restaurants, martial arts schools, etc to name a few.

I'm currently doing this myself for 5 clients, and I'd fucking laugh if someone told me to provide my services for free, on God my response would be "fuck out of here, go hire an Indian online, or do it yourself" to those who say It's just 30 mins work.

And to the idiot who said you can't "advertise everything", a person actually CAN advertise anything with the right research.

Ignorant peasants, just because they don't know how to, does not necessarily mean everyone else can't.

But of course, can't expect much more from kids here. Vouch begging and s hit when clearly he's showing his current results.

Best of luck on your journey tho, would be nice if we had a talk about business one day and share some ideas together!

LMFAO, now we got filters on words we put in here? f uck ing > fugging? s hit > shit ? What?! lol
I'm guessing it's meant to not affect the mentality of the kids on this forum, but Jesus Christ. I'm out.

Who even does this?

Last I got on here it wasn't like this, this is the biggest bs. lol

xitoxic - October 1, 2019, 11:29 pm

I think I will introduce some packages for this service based on the campaigns, ad sets and optimization time.

Many people wants a precise pricing

I have posted the thread design up with price packages etc.

Will definitely need your service in future, posting here so i come back to it .

Bulletbling1 - December 11, 2019, 12:38 pm

Just purchased his service yesterday. Already got first ad sale within 24 hours while we are just doing testing for optimal combo of ad settings. Is a pleasure to work with and is quite English proficient, considering he's in Belgium. Be wary of time zone difference, but shouldn't be a huge problem most of the time. Would recommend and will update based on how the campaign continues to do.

If you're as good as it seems you're really charging too little money for this service. If you can actually achieve results like this for some members then this price is definitely a steal!
