Assuming you're using a NVIDIA card, you can try grabbing the game ready drivers GeForce Experience.

It's pretty fucking good. I haven't really been a fan of the recent Call of Duty titles, probably since MW2/CoD4. I've been playing the shit out of Ground War. It feels like if Battlefield Bad Company 2 had a baby with Call of Duty 4.

They should really of made a new engine, if they said they made a new engine.
Just another IW Engine thats modified.

Also anticheat would be cool for once, considering you can still do basic things like godmode by modifying tick's and using things you don't have unlocked by changing the id of the weapon to the one you want creating classes.
