Thread: Post/thread count bug

This user <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=3620293>

Appears to have:

67 Threads

But only 37 posts.

When i view his threads i can only see 11 threads.

If his thread stats show statistics of deleted threads then it should reflect on his postcount aswell i believe.

And i can't imagine that this guy actuslly has 56 deleted threads unless he was very active in a section which is deleted now but then again, it should reflect his postcount aswell i think.

READ THIS BEFORE YOU REPLY PLS

If it is caused by moved/junked threads then he should have had a postcount 90+ not 37 because creating 1 thread also adds 1 count to postcount.

Or am i wrong?

The threads that you aren't seeing may not only have been deleted, but it could have been moved to private forums that only staff can see.

If that was the case it should have affected his postcount aswell, his postcount is only 37 and creating 1 thread also adds 1 post to postcount.

Meaning that he should have had 90+ posts to postcount.

Also there are 51 threads missing not just 1 or 2.

They were moved to junk or deleted. This causes the count to stick. Once another purge is done it should be updated.

It are 51 threads not just 1 or 2.

Also as i mentioned a few times now both in the OP and my first reply.

If that was the case he should have 90+ posts now because creating 1 thread also adds 1 count to postcount, he only has 37 threads.

So it's not 100% accurate. Oh well.

EDIT: Just did a full recount and now it's all good. Should be accurate.
