Thread: Just lost some bytes in slots

Linux X - September 24, 2019, 12:46 pm

I have spent some bytes to test these slots and i can say do not play this game. 90% of time lose 10% time win. In the beginning you earn some then you lose everything. Damn game.

The house always wins OP... Don't gamble what you're not comfortable losing.

Bro I have been losing every major game of Blackjack I have played recently. It is like the lucky was just turned off on my account or something.

I was winning so much before.

As i saw all depend on when you start to play. Also if you see that you are starting to losing a lot just quick the game and join again.

I have been played before 2-3 weeks ago, booooooring as hell. I don't like to gamble at all.

Cyber Rick - September 24, 2019, 2:41 pm

Well, that's gambling for you. The house is always going to be the one that comes out ahead.

Then maybe sell those bytes for some quick cash? I don't gamble much myself after getting the award in the first day.

Ahhh well give it a little while. The forum is always coming out with new uses for Bytes. ?

TheRecklessZebra - September 24, 2019, 5:18 pm

Damn i feel the same way but oh well you get them back.

What this person said, Slots drain those Bytes like no tomorrow. You're better off trying the lotteries or the scratchcards.

I'm not going to be your gambling addicts sponsor. j/k

It's fun to play a few bytes daily, but not blow all of them in a gambling binge.
