Just warning other users that there is a chance this could be carded.

You told me that you received these cards as a payment for something on the Dark web. You can never know how this was obtained by the person who paid you.

Lol, you have no clear idea how they were obtained.

You told me they were obtained from Bitpay?

Is that what the guy who paid you with the GCs told you?

But even so, you can never know how he actually obtained it.

I'm just saying others should be careful since you got these AGCs as a payment for something from the Dark web.

Are you seriously gonna trust someone's word on the Dark web?

But anyways, whatever. I've made my point. GLWS!

This is our Discord convo. I'm just gonna leave this here for other members to see.

P.S: When I said "communication" in the convo, I meant "community". That was a typo.

I'm not mad at all, nor did I fabricate anything.

The fact that you are basically denying what you just said to me a few hours ago proves to me what a joke you are.

What're you afraid of, buddy? You were basically threatening me a few hours ago bragging how you doxed Omni and others and took them down or whatever, and that you'll do the same to me as well. I couldn't get a grip of what you were talking about because they were of full of sh*t.

Also, if Omni or any other staff members want, I can show our chat on discord via screen share to prove that he did say all of this if that means he'll get closed.
