Thread: Paid Bytes Bump \(PBB\)

Omniscient - September 25, 2019, 11:23 am

In an effort lower LQP (Low Quality Posts) and also provide a new way to use Bytes we are introducing PBB (Paid Bytes Bump). For a Bytes fee you'll be able to bump any HF thread you wish. Use the arrow-up icon on the first post of your own thread (cannot bump threads you didn't create). When you buy a bump Stanley will make a new post in thread thus creating the bump.

The Bytes fee will depend on your group.

Vendors - 25 Bytes
Ub3r - 50 Bytes
Everyone Else - 100 Bytes

The effect of this should help us to sink some Bytes and get rid of LQP at the same time.

Enjoy this new feature. Thank you.

P.S. Please report any bugs.

Awesome addition. I will be using this for sure.

Really nice addition, well played Omniscient.

This is pretty great. Thank you for the continuous new features, Omni!

That's awesome. Been wanting this for a while. Are we still allowed to bump regularly?

Yin Yang - September 25, 2019, 11:33 am

Interesting, I'll be sure to try this out

SIM-403479 - September 25, 2019, 11:38 am

Is there a limit on how many times you can bump?

(Sep 25, 2019 11:38 AM)Halo Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Is there a limit on how many times you can bump?
No there is not.

01001 - September 25, 2019, 11:40 am

It seems like a great idea. I'll try this soon!

However, don't you think users with a lot of bytes can constantly bump their thread(s) and might get a chance to evade the Sticky policy and make sure their thread stays on top all the time? This would create competition, and even new LQ threads/services would be on top?

Bottom line, I appreciate this great addition and wanted to share my sheer feedback on this.

SIM-1729678 - September 25, 2019, 11:41 am

This is a solid feature and a great new addition to the bytes system.

Weco - September 25, 2019, 11:43 am

Nice addition though, love this idea.

I thought I hinted to you not to get rid of your Bytes. A lot of features we add to HF will include their usage. As a matter of fact the next big feature coming will also be Bytes related.

I must have missed that hint! I'm going to work my way back though, as I can see their usage is going to be increased significantly.

webdev77 - September 25, 2019, 11:57 am

This is a much appreciated feature. Now nobody has an excuse to LQ bump since there is a perfectly viable option for a low byte cost if you can't think of a way to make a useful post on your sales thread.

SneakyHF - September 25, 2019, 12:00 pm

Love all these new changes that have been coming to HF lately, keep up the great work.

This is bad for me because I always give away all of my bytes to other members. Guess I should start holding onto some to check out the new features.

I do really like the bump4bytes bit though, that's cool.

Not that expensive in Bytes imho considering it's a 0% chance of warning to OP or a closed thread due to bumping.

Quote:24 hour bump rule still applies to this right?

No, if you want to Stanley bump every 10 mins and spend the Bytes you can do it. If we think the policy should be changed we'd just code it into the feature.

Spaark - September 25, 2019, 1:11 pm

Does that post add any value? If you are just going to quote Stanley in obvious attempts to bump your thread then what do you think is actually going to happen. I think you know the answer is pretty damn obvious.

Big waste of bytes to bump that often, but as far as I'm concerned Omni and Xerotic will add a flood limit if there needs to be one.

It should reduce it from OP's who do try to avoid LQP but still do it anyways in order to bump. Now there is a relatively minor fee to bump.

So far we get 100-150 bumps per day with 4000-5000 Bytes used. That's a great byte sink and usage for the site. I'm very pleased about this feature.

Is it just me, or why does bumping my thread cost 100 bytes?

I was just about to remove my post because found out they increased it.

Thank you, and sorry :)

I like the update omni it makes bytes even worth more.

I wouldn't even mind it getting bumped up even more.

It just makes bytes more valuable.

As soon as I gamble it that happens ?

Damn, I just noticed it got bumped up to 50 bytes. No wonder I haven't been able to bump my threads.

Keep gambling them and losing them.

You can get a better deal if you were L33t.

(Sep 25, 2019 11:23 AM)Omniscient Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) In an effort lower LQP (Low Quality Posts) and also provide a new way to use Bytes we are introducing PBB (Paid Bytes Bump). For a Bytes fee you'll be able to bump any HF thread you wish. Use the arrow-up icon on the first post of your own thread (cannot bump threads you didn't create). When you buy a bump Stanley will make a new post in thread thus creating the bump.

The Bytes fee will depend on your group.

Vendors - 25 Bytes

Ub3r - 50 Bytes

Everyone Else - 100 Bytes

The effect of this should help us to sink some Bytes and get rid of LQP at the same time.

Enjoy this new feature. Thank you.

P.S. Please report any bugs.

Bug: It is currently 100 bytes for me.

Sorry for bumping an old thread; but I have a question.

When I press the bump button on my thread, I get a message asking if I am sure I want to bump this thread for 100bytes. However, I thought the price was supposed to be 50 bytes for Uber members? Is this just a standard message that doesn't reflect the discount, or does the discount no longer exist?

Thanks!

phunted - August 2, 2020, 10:57 pm

I was completely unaware of this until now, thank you lots.

Will be using this feature quite a bit in the future.

I am not 100% sure but I think it was for ubers 50 bytes at some point, not 100% sure.

That was when Bump system first came out and Vendor was 25bytes and ub3r 50 bytes.

It changed to 50 bytes per bump for vendor almost a year ago

But then again, they'll run out of bytes eventually, I hope.

Sorry for bumping this thread, but I wanted to make a comment about this as well.

I had a similar thought on the Premium Sellers forum, but it wasn't the titles as much (Although all caps titles mixed with a few non-capped titles makes my eyes sick) it was more of just the fact that out of the 50 threads displayed, the last post was by Stanley in 35 threads, while human users posts were only 15 threads. Thats 70% of the last post by Stanley. I just wish there was a way to still have Stanley post a bump, but show the last user as the last post, or something so it doesn't look like the entire market place is being spammed by a user named Stanley (which possibly a newer user might not know is a bot)

I love the idea of the feature, and completely love how it has reduced the amount of "bump bump bump bump" posts that used to be so common. I just hate that it makes it slightly harder to see when actual human users were last active in a thread.
