Huge vouch for this guy. I had a small AGC that I had no use for, and had messaged two other big exchangers on here who said they were always available and always down to trade. Neither of the other two even responded to me, presumably because of it being a smaller one, but DemonAsylum was super kind and got it done so fast. The money was in my account within about five minutes of messaging him, so I couldn't be happier. Thanks bro!

It's actually pretty standard around here. I've even gotten them for 65% at times.

70-75% is pretty normal though and what they've often been sold for on here for many years now. I've personally been buying from people on here for years and in the majority of cases have paid no more than 70%.

thats true, its the right percentage but seems like no one is selling. ive been trying to find a card for a very long time now and all i could find was maybe 2-3 cards at a good rate, the rest i'm buying goes for 80%.

I had some sold to me on here today at 70% and even more offered. Getting them is sometimes slower than other times of course, but generally I can get some within a few days tops upon bumping this thread and watching for others posting about selling. Looks like you've only been on here for not even a day so given more time and especially if you upgrade your account followed by posting a buying thread, you'll be able to get some too ?

PenteZ - February 18, 2024, 9:07 pm

I haven't found yet on this forum tho. I got them from telegram groups. But if you're saying you have found a couple on this forum it might be helpful to check up at times. Thanks Correct, myself and many others been getting lots of them on here for years as well as at the rates I mentioned. As for yourself, you've only been on here for not even a day it looks like. You also don't have a thread of your own advertising that you're buying for instance. With all of that said, it makes sense you wouldn't have yet found any to buy. Stay on the lookout for threads/posts of people saying they're selling and maybe even upgrade your account so you can post a thread advertising that you're buying. It's a pretty regularly exchanged thing on here honestly.
