Thread: Google Ads Clicker

Mehmetabi77 - September 26, 2019, 4:07 am

Hello Guys,

I am searching for a Click bot or a manual Method to click my competitors ads on google.

Will it work if i click his ad and then clear my cache and change my ip with a proxy and click again?

Does somebody have experience in this?

Looking forward to your answer.

Dayum, you a total asshole. I can only imagine if your competitor's CPC was like around $70.

You have to understand: I really dont want to do this but my competitor is me leaving no choice... He is constantly clicking our ads with a bot or something else. Somedays we have CTR's of 30-40% and Google or ClickCease is not really helping at all...

Thats why we want to fight back. We are daily loosing money because of this

Is there an alternative what i can do against it?

Create stricter rules with ClickCease. Send your reports to Google & hope they refund you for those clicks.

Just curious, what's your CPC?

P.S. If they keep on messing with you, send me some proof via PM - I have an idea of how to fuck them up.

We already tried informing google about it. Nothing happend at all.. Our Competitor has 3 Sites displayed all with diffrent names but the same person behind the Websites.

Our CPC ranges from 6-15 EURO per CLICK

Leave your contact info, I used to run a project that involved ad botting, back in the day.
