

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: [\[LoL\] Kat Mid vs Ranged Champion? \[LoL\]](#)

District - September 27, 2019, 1:08 pm

I've started playing League of Legends again and currently on patch V9.19 I've been trying out Katarina again. Not really playing as competitive as I was before but I've been having so much fun with her I'd like to go forward and iron a few things out.

Been having a lot of issues against champions like Vladimir or Lux etc. I walk up for a minion and have to take AA or Q poke and eventually end up getting bullied out of the lane, naturally giving them a lead. I can use Shunpo to dodge a skillshot or my Q to poke back but the poke difference seems to be so huge.

Anyone got advice for these kinds of match ups? I usually try to just stay in the lane as long as I can so I don't lose much exp & scrummage what cs I can get. Usually half way into laning phase it gets really rough though. Any success I usually have comes from roams or the opponent just being a complete idiot.

baka~ - September 27, 2019, 4:34 pm

I don't really play league myself anymore so I can't exactly help you out with your situation. However if you need to improve your kata then watch some of this guy's gameplay, maybe you can pick a few things up from the early to mid game (in the laning phase)

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UC4XryR0fHLOlwCO4KLvn-ow>

It's one of the only channels with league content that I still watch, he's really good :) He has a stream aswell <https://www.twitch.tv/katevolved>