Thread: Looking for coding/development group

Exodus. - October 2, 2019, 7:33 pm

Are there any groups (official and nonofficial i really dont care) that are willing to teach programming, practical uses, and work on projects together. Like an actual productive group not just a lounge

c++ python
java

GetASyncKeyState() - October 3, 2019, 7:04 am

I'm interested in this as well. I code in Python , C , C++ , some ASM (mainly with MASM assembler) and a few others.

Since four of you guys that are already developers commented, why don't you just create your own unofficial group. I'm sure tons of Developers would love to join it :P

CORRYL - October 6, 2019, 1:32 am

That's good advise from Crimin4L

Crimin4L will be the owner of groups, maybe. :P

So make them yourself or pay someone to do it. I don't think anyone is going to help some random that comes onto the site and gives 0 contributions, then almost demand plugins for a website.

Goodluck tho ?

Ah, see you didn't state that so it came off like you were demanding things. I am sorry, if you are looking for someone then you should try looking in the paid services section. They might even have a section specifically for developers offering their service. Just browse the marketplace but before posting anything; be sure to post in the correct section.

Goodluck on finding someone, and We recommend you take the time to read the HF Help Documents section. The answer to your questions should be contained in there.

I would 100% love to join(even tho im pretty new at coding :P) still would be cool! Also, ik this is a bit late but do you guys got a tg or discord yet?

Malmoc - November 13, 2019, 5:47 am

I'd love to join a development group that could help share knowledge and collaborate on projects :-)
Anyone in this thread who's already got a group running or who'd like to take charge?
