Thread: The big chance, goodbye

© ÉliXéd - October 3, 2019, 12:56 pm

Since 1 25- 2010 I have been a member of HF. Omni did in that times a great job.

Everyone was FREE in posting whatever they want(besides a few things)..

What I see now in HF is only business, business in webhosting, fake e-books. fake- money making methodes. And a few helpfull members.

Is this what Hf is standing for ? Is this what makes HF big ? I don't think so. I respect omni his decisions. I know he has to deal with legal inputs.

However, I don't see the hackforums anymore, I see a platform that promote their "e-books", "money making methodes".

All of this includes no more hacking. I joined HF as jr hacker. To LEARN. and, whatever you do with it. It is a learn for the future. In this HF the people don't get that chance anymore. Not the good way, not the bad way.

I supported more than 5000$ in hackforums, I did that because I saw the potential in HF, had believe in omni. I don't see that anymore. It's a pain for me. So many years active on here, but he hackforums.net is not what it should be. And don't blame the owner. I Assume he had to deal with this.

Hackforums is no more hackforums in my eyes. It's ponypark forums. Maybe you can learn something. Nothing bad to all the members. But for now I'm sure I have to leave. If I'm not getting banned after this post, then I will return, and see what it is after a couple of years.

I wish everyone the best, do your thing. Make money of the e-books that are worthless(joke). It makes me sad, that a huge community like this falls down, it's near the death.

Omni, do something about it please, if you ban me or not. I might be old, but this is not what I expected from hackforums.

Guys, see you soon or later or after a few years. I hope everyone keep their head up.

Edit:

If I ask someone for hacking, I get banned(it's hackforums)
If I ask someone to inject a site I get banned (it's hackforums)
If I post a thread how to infect(I get banned (it's hackforums)
If i ask for a DDoS attack(i get banned but it's hackforums)
If I ask someone to bruteforce I get banned (it's hackforums) things change, you can't expect something to stay the same for 10+ years. You need to adapt or get left behind luke - October 3, 2019, 1:05 pm

9 year member and 1k posts + 1 month online time OP. your opinion doesn't mean much. doesn't give me faith that you can hardly spell either.

ur recent post is a money making method too lol

I agree, but I think the word and domain name "hackforums" don't fit anymore. Change it to techforum

Pyro - October 3, 2019, 1:09 pm

Bye bye, no one know you here so we wont miss u either

These were my thoughts exactly.

He never really contributed to hackforums.

Perhaps try reading the Help Docs because you seem to be very confused on what is allowed, and not allowed on the forums.

Judging by your recent thread and your 50% warning, tells me you simply have no idea what the rules are.

Guys dont you think you should go a little bit easier on him? He was just expressing his thoughts.

True, I've been away for some time and at the moment I'm reading the rules again. They are changed in the past 10 years.

Yep, ok. Things will NEVER be the same after some years, but the name hackforums is still the same.

This is true, and I hope for some input from some old members like me..

No "gtfo" I am here my man. Maybe you don't like it. I don't want to destroy Hf but the meaning of HF has changed. If I didn't give a fuck about Hf, then why you think I donated 10k

You have old days, new days will always follow you.

Remember the old days, you will need them in the future.

Lol dude you salty but HF is better than ever. Gtfo of your nostalgia and feelings.

Facts don't care about your feelings. HF always had hella ebook sellers.

Changes were made for a reason, things were removed that were potentially harmful for the future of this site, which is a business btw. Sorry we can't cater to degenerate teenagers carding free pizza.

True, omni had to take this actions, this doesn't mean that I like them. But I don't enjoy them.. I said before, I will stay. but the way it goes, is not my way.

And that's correct. His warning now is from posting outside Marketplace. Not because of his content, but because of where it posted it. And it's been a rule to not post marketplace threads outside Market for a very very long time.

Actually only the DDOS attack would get you a warning. Technically we don't ban much anymore...

OP obviously salty that we've evolved so far. Very happy to lose a member that expects us to be the same site from a decade ago. That's just ridiculous.
