looks like this poor idiot has scammed other users to:

I am making this thread to warn members, mainly new users to be careful of this sketchy user.

He started a conversation with me, offering to buy my 220k Instagram. We made a deal on the price and agreed.

I tell him that we WILL use a middleman, this is obviously the safest option.. I understand I am new to HF but I'm not new to online marketplaces and I don't trust anyone.

Then, @Faceless Man decides to ignore me after I suggest using a middleman, whilst being online for a few hours.

He then messages back after 2 hours, saying "I went to bed wtf bro". He went to bed for 2 hours then came back yeah? He then says "I'll message you tomorrow"

He goes to bed as soon as I mention "middleman" but he was ready to deal literally 5 seconds before. He said he expected me to go first because I do not have much b ratings on HF.

Today came, he didn't reply for 8 hours+ so I messaged him asking if he was really serious and he replies:

"I was serious, but now its seems you're an arrogant fuck, so peace" clearly, he couldn't scam me and was not interested so he blames me for it.

@Faceless Man will probably try to change his name, he has already added me to ignore list because he couldn't scam me, just be very careful with this user, especially if you are a new member as he knows how to take advantage of you.

Faceless Man is a poor, degenerate who will take advantage of new members, you must be careful around this stupid child as he likes to scam a lot, and thinks he is rich by scamming but in reality he is poor as f*ck

Why do you not have a contract ?

Also OP just because some one doesn't want to use a MM doesn't necessarily make them a scammer.

I 9/10 times will refuse a MM because the time it takes for them to get online and it just makes things longer then they gotta.

There are a lot of MM's here and I think even f8 has a MM service. If you wanna use a mm you should of just told him ight im gonna fine the a mm.

Send money to mm have "trusted mm" get item first then send money to seller.

Just cause some one wants to use a mm doesn't make them a scammer if some one messages me about a mm I will most likely ignore them.

Unfortunately, I think I know the identity of this user. Although I will not divulge any information on anyone due to forum rules.

Always deal with caution and use a reputable middleman where possible.

So for a $800 Deal, you wouldn't use a middleman for some random guy with barely any popularity and business deals?

Honestly this guy imperticular I would of told him to go first or probley wouldn't of dealt with him.

Any one with a scam report your better of using a MM or going second. I was just saying just because some one doesn't want to use a mm doesn't make them a scammer.

I understand you now, specifically this user, he is definitely a scammer. Multiple reports of his attempted scams & scams.
