Thread: Reps Given on Popularity Page

Leroy Jethro Gibbs - October 10, 2019, 4:25 pm

Not sure if this is purposeful or not but I remember years ago we had a way to click directly from the rep, now popularity, page to see our given rep which is located at <https://hackforums.net/repsgiven.php>. We could also do this for other members. Besides going to the direct link, was this removed from pages for a reason or am I just dumb and it was always that way?

I think I remember that feature. That would be cool to have again but not really necessary since popularity means shit these days. But it would be nice to be able to delete rep that you've given.

Reputation doesn't mean much and people don't care to write something there so I'm not sure what the benefit of that would be

Main purpose for me would be to go back and find the people I negged for being dipshits to see if they were closed or not. Like a guy that just recently got closed for posting malware on here. His thread got junked but I couldn't remember his username. I wanted to see the outcome. Granted this is just one reason. I'm sure there are more much better options.

I know its listed on the upgrade page and it works but I'm just curious why the button was removed.

This is another good reason for the button. Just seems harder to access the popularity page using the URL rather than a button.

Its a feature for upgraded UB3R's. Its already functional. All I'm asking is why the quicker way to access it was removed.

You can access it from profile. Looks at the popularity line.

Never even realized that. Thanks for pointing that out. Any reason it was removed from the page itself?

It was never on the reputation.php page as far as I can recall.

Ahh. Well it could have been a userscript for all I know. Back then I used the shit outta userscripts. I appreciate the response no less.

I think in 1.6x it was there. May have been removed in 1.8x upgrade then lost with the responsive Mobale theme forever. ;)

I'm a nerd and I can actually remember it being there once upon a time ago, but I felt like it was irrelevant, like myself.
