Thread: Free Forex Signals \(professional trades sent to your phone\)

RealGrowth - October 18, 2019, 5:53 pm

I have a group that we started on telegram, 7 professional traders that send trade signals for free (to get recognition before we start charging)

Right now we have a free chat and are trying to build it up so if you want access reply and I will PM you instructions on how to access them.

If you don't know what signals are keep reading if you do then quit wasting your time and reply to the post.

Forex Signals is a service in which essentially a trader looks at the Forex Market and identifies a trade they want to take, they then take that trade and post it in the group where hundreds can also see the trade and participate if they please. What makes us special is that most people charge hundreds per month for access to this (who wouldn't it's literally an atm machine) but since we just started we are doing it for FREE. There will be a short training video explaining more if you need it.
