Hey guys,
anyone knows what is triggering HEUR/AGEN.1042736?

I'm having a hard time evading it. Also any place I could find list of signatures and what is causing them?

Cheers

this detection has been making my life hard for over 1 year since it started appearing.

Even tho it comes pretty rarely like once every 1-2 months i know i have to cancel all plans for at least half a day to get rid of it.

I usually add complex junk code then start altering the code that was already there and this seems to be doing the trick .

1 time it detected my file because it was missing the manifest info so is really random and unpredictable
