I'm really excited for Food Wars Dubbed in 2020!

I can watch subbed but I honestly have preference on voices to match the characters and personally I think Soma's English voice actor fits his personality much better than the Japanese voice actor. What do you think?

Also please don't spoil 4th season I haven't watched it yet.

Thank you ^.^

Only ever seen it subbed so would not be able to answer that one. Don't believe I'd be able to go to the dub version as I've seen the entire series in sub thus far, plus to mention the rarity in a well done dub that succeeds where the Japanese one may not, albeit this may be subjective.

Its quite popular in America, the dubbed version comes out next year spring but I am very tempted to watch them in sub because the 4th season was just released.

It will be interesting that's for sure I just hope they don't end it with season 4.

Don't get your hopes too high, haven't read it myself but I heard the manga really ruined it.

I was loving it at first but not so sure anymore, don't let me mess with your experience, I do think if you are a chef or really into food you will love it.

To get the best offer for food plate, Watch in Japanese it makes the food more authentic and sounds cooler in Japanese
