

Forum: Hack Forums

Thread: Shoppy.gg refunds

Transgender - October 26, 2019, 1:54 am

Hey so I went to buy something in shoppy.gg with cryptocurrency and couldn't make the payment. I was $3 short. I put money into it.

But how do I get a refund? The vendor says they haven't gotten the money that I did put through & now I am down on cash.

The vendor says look for an email that starts the refund process but I am not getting any. wtf do I do?

It has been nearly 3 hours since I put money into it.

Accounts4U - October 26, 2019, 2:13 am

I believe you should get an email to let you know you was short. Not 100% sure if it offers a refund though. Best option is to pay the full amount and contact the seller so they can contact Shoppy and ask them to process it manually

Also, there isn't much the seller can do as the money goes to Shoppy first and then once the payment has been completed in full it gets split between shoppy and the seller. Be nice to the seller as you may not like this but it was your error and they are spending time resolving this for you.

Transgender - October 26, 2019, 2:39 am

(Oct 26, 2019 02:13 AM)Accounts4U Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I believe you should get an email to let you know you was short. Not 100% sure if it offers a refund though. Best option is to pay the full amount and contact the seller so they can contact Shoppy and ask them to process it manually

Also, there isn't much the seller can do as the money goes to Shoppy first and then once the payment has been completed in full it gets split between shoppy and the seller. Be nice to the seller as you may not like this but it was your error and they are spending time resolving this for you. The vendor opened a ticket. They have been very patient with me thankfully.

Accounts4U - October 26, 2019, 2:52 am

(Oct 26, 2019 02:39 AM)Transgender Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The vendor opened a ticket. They have been very patient with me thankfully.

Awesome, it can take time but will get resolved. Dont worry too much dude ;)