We are currently in Alpha stage testing of our new service, offering Free gaming servers to the community. Whilst we continue development we are looking for members to help test our servers performance & general feedback & suggestion.

We have limited spots open, however as we grow we will continue to open further spots to members to join in the Alpha.

Currently alpha testing requirements;

1. Based in United States
2. Have Minecraft available
3. Have a small player base available for a minecraft server (between 2-5 people)
4. Available to give feedback & suggestion as we progress

What you will receive;

1. Free Vanilla Minecraft server.
2. 1GB Ram
3. Hosted in United States
4. Early-Access to future available game servers (CSGO, Garrys mod etc)

How to apply;

1. Post below why you would be a good fit for alpha testing
2. Previous experience running a Minecraft server / server administration
3. Previous experience in feature / bug testing.

Once you have completed the above, succesful members will be private messaged

[[Please note this service is EARLY & is no were near final stages; Features are subject to change; Servers are subject to random restarts / terminations]]

I suggest you post this on mc-market instead, you're much more likely to find good testers.

I'll see how we go here for members, however we're nearly at max Alpha tester as is (due to advertising elsewhere)
