Thread: Notification Bug Reports & Suggestions

Xerotic - October 29, 2019, 10:20 am

Recently we have replaced the old "MyAlerts" system with our newly created "Notify" system for site notifications. This project is still new and some bugs will exist while we perfect the plugin. I'd like if members could report any bugs that they notice here in this thread.

Before you post any bug reports I ask you to please ensure that you have notifications enabled:
<https://hackforums.net/notify.php>

Make sure you check what you want to see otherwise you won't be notified for it.

If you have any loading errors it would help to see a error log from your browser. To do this:
Right Click > Inspect Element > Console Tab > Copy any red error messages

This will help to pinpoint problems so that we can solve them quicker.

If you have any suggestions you can also post them in this thread. Thank you.

Good idea for this thread.

The only bug I've noticed so far is the one where a notification will sometimes disappear after clicking on the Bell and closing it. I've see a few other people encounter it as well.

I adjusted the plugin a bit so let me know how the notifications turn out now after viewing them.

Bug on mobile:

The avatar button leading to the new posts button etc does not work when on the notifications page.

Mobile browser: Brave - no add-ons or ad blockers enabled.

DM me on Discord for a video of the problem (too big to post here and has audio in the background that I don't want public)

Edit: Sorry, didn't see your Discord reply before posting this, lol.

For me the only bug that happens at the moment as I've sent you convo earlier this week.

If I get notification from a thread for example, I click and I reply.
Then go back to the main page, I still have the notification as Un-read, so I have to keep clicking and refreshing until it goes away.

Does not happen often, like 1 out of 5 or 10 new notifications.

Which type of notification? Quote? Mention?

Either quote or reply but not mention.

flavoral is the problem. He's done something locally that's correctly running HF pages. Probably userscripts but could be permissions or something else. It's him, not you, or us.

These user-scripts are a pain in the ass, or so it appears. Oh well, glad you guys found the problem.

I had now this bug.

I had 4 alerts.

Reply and quote.

I clicked on them, replied and they didn't went away.

I still had 4 of them, once I got back to home page, then I clicked on one and all 4 of them were marked as read.

Suggestion: Add Sportsbook to one of the available notification options (either success or failure). Specifically sportsbook versus the other gambling pages, because it is a "set and forget" page.

FWIW, I've received all of my notifications. Good job on the notify plugin. Receiving no issues on Chrome 77.0.3865.120.

Sir - October 29, 2019, 10:19 pm

I will say, that earlier today I showed Mix that in his code for the HF News that when he used the mentions it went ahead and converted it into a clickable link within the code itself.

I also noticed, that when I had working tags in Full Edit Mode, if I switched to Quick Edit some of them would break. But when I tried to repeat that instance to verify it I couldn't duplicate the situation.

Are you sure it wasn't moved to "Viewed" section? Because reading a PM marks the associated notification as read.

Ahh it does, but regardless, it seems redundant that we are receiving 2 notifications every time we get a PM.

It's just mildly confusing.

I think a "mark all as read" button would be beneficial ? I'm sure you already had that in mind / planned, but I give a +1 to that

SIM-1729678 - October 31, 2019, 3:16 am

I haven't gotten notifications when I get quoted by people. Sometimes I do get them but there is no obvious pattern that I can see. Mobile and Desktop.

Deal - October 31, 2019, 3:17 am

It shows that I have a notification on my laptop. But when I press it, the box is just grey and does not show any notifications at all.

I run Safari on a MacBook Pro 2019.

Notifications works on Safari mobile.

SIM-4086413 - October 31, 2019, 7:28 am

I have an idea that should also fix the issue with notification not going to viewed when you saw them.

Make it so when you close the notification tab by clicking the close button, it will automatically move all notifications to viewed.

Or add a clear messages button.

It is quite possible that they edited the mention in. Edits are not designed to notify.

Suggestion/first world problem:

When you click the notification bell icon, then try to click either the search icon or the profile avatar, the notification panel does not close. Could you please make one of the menus cancel out the other? It's obviously delivering the notification panel with the highest z-index and I COULD click the tiny X button, but...

You can test it via the Chrome device toolbar and select iPad @ 100%.

I don't know what is happening, but I get notifications from subscribed threads (I see the red number of the notifications on top of the bell), but when I actually open the notifications tab it does not show me any notifications, but just an empty tab. This is what I see: <http://prntscr.com/ptrj0t>

No error on the console, and I tried clearing cookies/cache but it didn't fix it.

Edit: visiting notifications from my phone works normally. Idk.

So is it working any better? We do know that PUSH does not work with Brave, we don't know why yet and we're working on that. Might have it fixed in December. Brave is only about 1-2% of members so it's not high priority.

So far yes. I get Push-Notification via phone, so that's good enough for me for now.

The reason why It might looks like it's only me that have most of the issues, is that I keep going back to threads i posted on to make sure and report back on this thread. There are other users who also don't get notifications sometimes, but just don't notice it or don't report it always. Here is the thing though, when you reported it, we looked into server logs. It was obvious that you had tons of errors while very few others had the same. For instance an entire days logs showed maybe 3-4 total accounts with errors. Each had about 3-5 while you had dozens. It could simply because of your increased activity but it certainly looked in the logs that something is wrong on your end. We could not discern from logs what that problem might be though.

Yes, I'm aware of that. Xerotic told me that day that most of the logs were filled with errors from me. Since then, I removed of the things/extensions on my Chrome browser, reset-ed the settings, cleared caches (both phone and laptop), scanned my laptop and now moved from Chrome to Brave for HF usage. At this point, I'm out of things to do. However, since then I didn't receive any positive update saying error logs stopped or similar stuff. So I'm just here lost not knowing what to do thinking I did something which broke the whole system which I didn't do and not sure how to fix it. :c

I think I stopped seeing the errors in the logs when I checked. Are you saying PUSH doesn't work for you now? or it does...

I'd like to help if I can. But I'll be honest, I can't waste too much time on something that's just your account. So far very few others complain of the same experience.

Push notification works fine for me. I was referring to the notification alerts. I understand you can't waste a lot of time on it as there's much important things to focus on. Personally, there's no issues from my side regarding Push nor notification alerts, but sure I will convo you right now.

Are you able to use the [img] tag directly?

Ooof, that is extremely frustrating, unfortunately apart from the standard suggestions, I don't know how else I can help.

It seems to be some sort of permissions issue or some issue directly related to your account.

To be honest, its annoying.

0 notifications about, accepting, and completing contract.

And when i have like 5-6 contract for selling low value items i need to check contracts 1-by-1 to check who paid and who not...

It should send info when payment address added or when someone mark it as paid.

Why would you be gettning notifications for forums you don't interact with?

Quote:Still randomly not getting quote notifications

That should not be. Be aware that Push Notifications work differently. If you're on the site, you don't get one.

spiral Wrote:My notifications have completely stopped working, it tells me I get one, but they just don't update. Happens on all my devices.

I really think Cloudflare is causing some problems with pushing from our web socket. On a case by case basis I'm trying to work with individual members to find the cause. Already figured out with one member that it was because he was in Lite Mode in Chrome. If you'd like help please Convo with me for 15+ minutes to look into it.

Alright, I see what is likely the issue. Some of the quotes are double quoted "username" while some are single quoted 'username'. Unsure if this is caused by an extension or one of the HF features is doing it.

We may be able to adjust the notify script to recognize both.

btw, I set this post to be double quoted and I bet you don't get a notification.

Xerotic I'm sometimes getting 1-year-old notifications for popularity rating. I read the notification who gave it but when I clicked there was no new popularity. I then searched the username using the advanced search and saw that the user was not online for a long time. I'm not sure what we can call this because there's no harm in getting old notifications but it's misleading in some way and in another way it's kinda good for me to get reminded to be on Hack Forums.

There should be an option in USER CP for inactivity notification like if you haven't been online for more than 24 hours you get a notification.

yeah I also get this, I tried working with Omni but he couldn't find any issue. It happens most of the time, but for a few hours every day it starts to work again and my latest notifications will load, then they will completely stop working and then it will display yesterdays notifications. Not really sure of the cause, this also happens on multiple devices, so I don't think that's the issue.

Yeah I have that too, pretty sure it will be fixed when Xerotic has settled in Vegas.

I'm not sure if this is the reason everyone isn't getting the latest notifications, but when I had multiple tabs of the site open they didn't load on all the tabs except one, if you have multiple tabs open I'd say check them all to see if they are coming through on one of the tabs.

Do you have any idea why it says I have for example 3 notifications, but when I click on it, only old notifications are showing? This happens on all my devices, not all the time, just most of the time. Sometimes notifications will work fine and load, then the rest of the time they will either show old notifications or just none at all?

edit : a notification just loaded for like 1 minute, then disappeared, as well as the notification after just didn't show at all.

UPDATE

I just made some adjustments to the Notify plugin. Notifications should be marked as read when you visit the relevant page. EG: If you are mentioned, quoted, replied to, etc in a thread then visiting that thread will mark the appropriate notifications as read. The same should be true for all notification types.

Please note that only notifications created AFTER this post will have this effect. Old notifications will still need to be cleared out normally.

Let me know if you experience any issues with this aspect of Notify. I'm going to keep working on other notification related bugs today.

Xerotic

I believe the Purchase History should also show Buy Feature.

I'm not 100% sure if this is already working and shows if you have purchased the Featured Link as I just made a purchase and it's not showing me in the purchase history.

Xerotic Omniscient Notifications not working again. I'm sure you guys will see a red cloud over the notification area and then figure out there is a problem.

As mentioned, it's offline once again. It's like 4:30am ATM in CA so looks like we might have to deal with it for a minute until Omni wakes up.

For some reason. Combo isn't working for me. Might be problem from my side or I'm just being stupid.

Can anyone confirm by sending me a convo ?

It's not working for me either. Odd. I wonder if it has anything to do with the recent attacks causing downtime?

Notifications aren't working for me. Probably the server glitching out.

You get notifications for replies to threads in forums you don't have access to. Annoying.
