

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Cheapest place to buy legit windows?

TheMedigator - October 30, 2019, 3:03 am

I'm not after a copied version etc, I've already bought a "key" from a site which wont work.

I'm on windows 10 enterprise 2016 LTSB version 1607 (OS Build 14402.447) I originally had the proper windows but a cheat I was using changed my windows key to avoid detection and I lost it (Over a year ago)

I've read on google I can buy a correct version of windows and I can upgrade or downgrade to windows 10 home or pro but it needs to be a legitimate full key.

I just really don't want to have to fully wipe and loose everything I have at the min

Any help would be really appreciated :) feel free to reply or pm me.

datguy.dev - October 30, 2019, 9:33 pm

The cheapest place to buy a legit Windows key is Ebay. There is security in your purchase via Ebay policies and buyer protection. Especially, when it comes to virtual items; you win. As far as downgrading, you got me. I've never heard of or had to.

Ortek - November 9, 2019, 7:14 am

I dont know about Enterprise, but for the home or pro version you can buy one here:

<https://www.digitallicense.nl/windows/windows/windows-10/>

Ive bought 2 Win10 Pro licenses in the past and they still work as they should. Im just not sure if a normal Pro key works on Enterprise (you can always ask the seller)

And best of all, they accept BTC :)

Xamarin - November 9, 2019, 1:14 pm

(Oct 30, 2019 03:03 AM)TheMedigator Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm not after a copied version etc, I've already bought a "key" from a site which wont work.

I'm on windows 10 enterprise 2016 LTSB version 1607 (OS Build 14402.447) I originally had the proper windows but a cheat I was using changed my windows key to avoid detection and I lost it (Over a year ago)

I've read on google I can buy a correct version of windows and I can upgrade or downgrade to windows 10 home or pro but it needs to be a legitimate full key.

I just really don't want to have to fully wipe and loose everything I have at the min

Any help would be really appreciated :) feel free to reply or pm me.

If you do not really NEED to have the enterprise version of Windows 10, you can simply downgrade to Windows 10 (without loosing your files) as you said, and its keys are very cheap. For example, the website allkeyshop has Windows 10 Professional with around $3 which is madly cheap. Even though personally I haven't had problems so far by shopping on sites that allkeyshop does business with (and I have bought a lot of stuff there), of course when you find a key with such a low price there is always a chance that you may get scammed.

Tintin - November 10, 2019, 12:46 pm

Windows 10 Pro is usually recommended. However, there are advantages to the Enterprise. The enterprise version of Windows doesn't mean it's bloated with stuff, it's actually the version most organizations prefer because Windows updates are released in longer batches of time eg 6 weeks instead of 6 hours like their siblings (just an example).

Simplicity! - November 10, 2019, 1:18 pm

Eay usually does the job for most things that you may need, especially codes.

Bastille - November 11, 2019, 10:16 am

Hello,

Usually I buy them on Amazon, around 5€ for a Windows 10 key, never had problems.

?FXL? - November 21, 2019, 1:57 pm

@TheMedigator

I can install on your pc a digital key for windows 10 pro Free of course
P.M

Linux X - November 22, 2019, 11:19 pm

(Nov 9, 2019 08:14 AM)Ortek Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I don't know about Enterprise, but for the home or pro version you can buy one here:

<https://www.digitallicense.nl/windows/windows/windows-10/>

I've bought 2 Win10 Pro licenses in the past and they still work as they should. I'm just not sure if a normal Pro key works on Enterprise (you can always ask the seller)

And best of all, they accept BTC :)

May I know how $ you give for this?

skrilloo - November 24, 2019, 9:59 am

Those licenses aren't really "legit" anyways.

Yes, they work, but you aren't using the licenses as they were intended so you might prefer crack them straight using a KMS activator.