Thread: Economical shooting range in Las vegas?

Bossk - October 30, 2019, 7:45 am

Hello HACKERS..!

Me and my dad are planning a maxed out trip to Las vegas in the beginning of next year, our main attraction is CES ? But we figured that while we are there we might just shoot some epic guns, but most ranges seem very overpriced. Could anyone please recommend me a shooting range where we can shoot epic thengs for a reasonable buck. Thx ?

Good thing I served for 3 years. I don't actually don't even want to do that ever again..

Enjoy with your dad

I'm sure a lot of them are priced quite high for tourists. Perhaps a local could better advise you. Good luck OP.

I think the Mandalay Bay has a good shooting range from what I've seen on TV.

I know, it was a fucked up joke. I have really dark humor.

There's an outdoor range in Clark County that's pretty reasonable as price goes, it's a bit outside the strip but you're really not going to find anything reasonable closer, they're all priced for tourist.
