Fluox - October 31, 2019, 11:55 am

INTRODUCTION

Hey, as you more than likely gathered from the title, I am looking for a few private investigators that are willing to work as a part of a group.

I ran a thread within the private investigation section offering free PI work and have recently re-opened it; I am hoping to locate a few PI's willing to assist with the thread and work on the service as a team allowing for more requests to be done at a faster rate.

If you wish to help please re-direct yourself to the section listed "Recruitment" There you can find the template that you can use to apply for the team.

If you wish to help but don't believe you have the skills needed, please still leave a reply containing the template below and I can assist you in learning more on the topic, working on this project will also open more doors for learning new things within this topic.

Please note; credit will be given to those who join the team and help within the project.

RECRUITMENT
