Just curious to hear your opinions. Like what you think is the point where your considered a actual hacker as opposed to a wannabe.

Why buy ebooks when you can hack ebooks? ?

Basically, script kiddies just reproduce what they can watch on videos or read on websites/forums, without cares or knowledge about what they are doing and how does it work.

The hacker is the guy who have the basics >

- Network (TCP/IP - OSI model knowledge), routing, firewall, wireless networks, protocols, frame, packets, and so on.
- Linux/Windows's shell knowledge
- Security knowledge (algorithms, protocols, best practices)
- At least one programming language (Python, C languages, Java, ...)
- At least one web language (HTML, PHP, Javascript, ...)

Between the first one and the second one there is on main point that makes the difference :

- motivation

Bluffer - November 3, 2019, 12:47 am

Well first of all real hackers don't talk about what makes them a real hacker and script kiddies like the attention so they talk about it a lot.

Real hacker shit. Am I right fellow hackers? ? ?

90% of HF is script kiddies because we all look through the hacking section and look for PDF's to get PM'ed to us haha.

I'm willing to bet majority of the users that post the tutorials for $20 don't fully know the method they're selling. But that's just me.

I'm no hacker by any means lol.

Slicky - November 3, 2019, 5:56 am a real hacker could take 99% of sites internal database with ease.

This basically sums up the last 10 years of HF rathr accurately ?

Slicky - November 4, 2019, 8:15 am

I'm a real hacker kappa I wish still learning

Slim - November 4, 2019, 8:23 am

A script kiddie uses other people's work.

A hacker could use other people's work, but could rearrange the code in complex ways, create his own work, and collaborates with other people to create new work.

Bossk - November 4, 2019, 10:53 am real hackers dont hack because it is cool. they hack because they lost someone close to them.

Lindros - November 4, 2019, 12:04 pm

A script kiddie just uses programs tools without really understanding what is going on when a l337 h4ck3r codes up his own custom l337 h4ck1ng t00lz

A real hacker knows how things work and that's why he can hack.

A script kiddie doesn't know how the tools he's using work.

A script kiddie doesn't know how the target's OS works.

A script kiddie doesn't know the networking behind their own hacks.

A script kiddie just follows instructions from some tutorial but doesn't understand what they are reading.

A real hacker knows how stuff works. A real hacker may even know enough to program their own tools themselves.

See the difference?

If you don't know computer networking then why are you hacking wifi networks with wireshark? See what I mean?

DNA - November 4, 2019, 3:21 pm

Should be "What's the difference between a Skid and a programmer" because hackers aren't hackers without knowledge of programming, so are they hackers or unethical programmers?

Anyways the diff is pretty obvious.

One codes

One claims to code

Controlled - November 4, 2019, 5:50 pm

One doesn't know how it works nor how to create it, its a mere copy of someone else's work. A "Real" Hacker creates.

OBAMASELF - November 4, 2019, 10:06 pm

Without script kiddies there wouldn't be a word "HACKER" in this world cause all those REAL HACKERS are once SCRIPT KIDDIES.

ningjingdexiatian - November 4, 2019, 10:57 pm

The ability to explain and breakdown what you're actually using and doing, for emphasis on the former.

The former will allow an expert to adapt existing tools, according to the appropriate situation, and also come up with their own tools.
