I cover both, just you have to pay the paypal fees which is $2-$3

If final cart is $50, you have to pay $27.5+ paypal fees

You have to pay 55% like + PP Fees

$$45 \times .55 = 24.75 + $2 \text{ Paypal fees} = 26.75$

He apparently had some internet issues but did eventually deliver the order the next day. Vouch that the discount was good, but the service is a bit inconvenient if you are looking to get something delivered in a certain timeframe. Well its obvious I need the address to place the order. But I never disclose it to any of customers . It stays with me always. And at the end of the day when all orders complete, when I close . I delete all the screenshots from my phone. They all get junked. So there is no way anyone can use it for negative purposes.

He let me know the total cost. I paid him. He ordered the food maybe within 2min after I sent the payment.

He gave me a screen shot of the order confirmation and provided me tracking updates when the driver was on his way and when the driver was 1min away.

I got my food, saved money in the process and I will definitely be using this guy again!

The easiest way is to call the restaurant with that order number and ask them how the order was placed. If there is a coupon applied, the APP informs the restaurant that it was used, else it will also tell them if it was paid with CC.

I am pretty sure grub doesn't give 45% off on food orders. If he is giving 45%, he needs to make profit which means he must be getting 60-70% off to make enough money to continue this.

New account + Fresh CC ~ 5-20$. I do not know OPs Country but if he is in India he will get those details even cheaper. I know people who supply accounts in bulk on other platforms.

However OP PMed me, I have asked him to provide the proof that it is not carding. He denied saying he doesn't want to disclose the method.

Carded food items last. because they are delivered within hours. Food/Alcohol delivery is the most common carded thing and high success rate.

Anyway, I am still waiting for you to provide us proof. If you can then you are good to go with your business. I am not trying to steal you method or resell it, I have no interest. I am simply concerned about all these users giving you their Personal Addresses etc.

??¢??? - April 22, 2020, 12:03 am

I spoke to him on the App, He sent me two screenshots with like a $30 coupon applied on a $30 food value, looked like DoorDash App.

He immediately deleted it. It's sketchy. And I know the doordash method of carding used, the fraud amount, in the end, is applied back as a discount only.

OP failed to provide me any previous account login which he used to place an order with coupon. IMHO, Accounts with CC Fraud are banned in a few days.

I asked him one order number as proof so I can call the company and verify at the backed that the order was placed 100% and no CC fraud just coupons. He denied and said, "Company will leak his customer data to me". LOL. It doesn't make sense.

I am attaching the conversation proof here too. @Everyone who placed the order, please be careful. OP has failed to provide any proof so far to prove his method is legit.

This seems like a pretty great service to me honestly. I have dealt with him before, and never had any issues. I've ordered 7+ times, not one single time have I had an issue with him. Not sure what all the confusion is for, but he's providing a pretty legit service here on HF. Why try to make the guy lose something good?

I don't think this is a carding method, at all. I think he has a way in and makes like maybe 5% of the full order.

It is carding, I have worked with these companies years, reporting and analyzing multiple carding cases over the years. the OP failed to provide any proofs asked and blocked me. Obviously you ordered food 7+ times , everytime he loaded a new aaccount with different card . 7 ordered individually are very less amounts and not noticeable that is why you faced no issues.

However, look at the number of deals he has had in the past, combine that amount, coming from one single source. Its big and illegal.

Dude. You came one year ago. I had 3 times the rep you had. HackForums old members have had their posts deleted and rep reset so many times in the past. I was away for a couple of years and recently started being active.

The way you are speaking right now, clearly indicates you are hiding something. I blocked you on Discord after you blocked me on HF. The way you write its clear you and I are in the same country. And trust me, I know enough people in the carding community to recognize what is being carded and what is not.
